NEW YORK.

Trouble Anticipated Between the Proposed Workingmen's Procession and the Police.

The Lucca-Rhaden Divorce Case Again in Court.

NEW YORK, January 10, 1874.

The Lucca-Rhaden Divorce Case.

The Hon. Edward Solomon, Ex Governor of Wisconsin, appeared in the Supreme Court yesterday, in behalf of Baron Von Rhaden, of Berlin, and made an argument on a motion preliminary to asking the Court to set aside the decree of divorce obtained by his wife—popularly known as Madame Pauline Lucca. The case is made complicated owing to the fact that Madame Lucca was married to one Von Walhoffen soon after she obtained the decree of divorce from Baron Von Rhaden. The Baron says he and his wife lived happily together until Von Walhoffen, who was wounded about the same time as himself in the Franco-Prussian war, came to his home.

The Workingmen's Proposed Procession.

The Committee on Procession of the workingmen for Tuesday next were informed to-day by the Police Commissioners that they could not go below Canal street, and the former informed the latter that the procession would move to City Hall in any event. The Commissioners then stated that they would hold the committee responsible for the consequences, and declined further parley.

Improvement of Canals.

The Produce Exchange is to petition the Legislature for the completion of the Erie, Oswego and Champlain canals by building vertical stone walls and by removing obstructions on the canal bottom, so that there may be a uniform depth of seven feet.

Sale of the "Independent" Newspaper.

The Independent newspaper has been sold to parties whom Rev. Dr. Talmadge represents, for two hundred and fifty thousand dollars, seventy-five thousand dollars cash, and the remainder on time, with real estate as security. Four hundred thousand dollars were offered for the same property four years ago.

An Alleged Embezzler Arrested.

Captain Gill, for a number of years a deputy tax collector in Brooklyn, and heretofore beyond reproach, has been arrested and held in ten thousand dollars bail on a charge of embezzlement. The amount is not stated. Gill insists that he is not guilty.

Suit Decided.

Judge Blatchford has given a decision against Jacob M. Demean and Simon Poey, who brought suit to recover thirty thousand dollars for the loss of a cargo of Texan beeves through the alleged negligence of the owners of the steamer Francis Wright.

Dinner to Spanish Naval Officers.

The officers of the Spanish war steamer Arapiles have been entertained at a dinner at Delmonico's, by the Spanish residents of this city. It is said that the action of Admiral Polo was denounced in the speeches.

Jewelry Store Robbed.

Adolph Hank, a jeweler of 327 Ninth avenue, reports that his store was robbed last evening by five masked men of five thousand dollars' worth of property. The police doubt the story.

Obtaining Money Under False Pretenses.

The famous Dr. Nephegyt has been held in three thousand dollars bail to answer a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses.

Greeley's Birthday.

Horace Greeley's birthday is to be commemorated on Tuesday next by a ball.

POTTSVILLE.

The Proposition of the Coal Operators Refused by the Miners—Nine Thousand Men Idle.

NEW YORK, January 11.—A Pottsville (Pa.) special says the miners have rejected the proposition of the operators to reduce the wages on a sliding scale, going as low as $2.25, and nine thousand miners in that region alone are idle and all the great coal operations of that section stopped. The miners will not under any circumstances submit to the proposition of the operators, and unless the latter recede, there will be a prolonged struggle. The miners of Columbia and Northumberland counties are affected directly by this action of the Schuylkill men, and all the region indirectly. They will be heard from on Monday, and then the whole region will have suspended within a few days.

LETTER FROM WASHINGTON.

The Granger Element Becoming Dissatisfied—Speeches on the Civil Rights Bill—Reduction of the Army Impolitic—Proposed Tennessee River Improvements—Charges Against a Dacotah Judge—Reorganization of the Treasury Department—Pensions to Soldiers of the War of 1812—Compensation for Feeding Union Soldiers—Homestead for Soldiers' Orphans.

Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Gazette.

WASHINGTON, January 10, 1874.

Granger Element Becoming Dissatisfied.

The granger element throughout the country is becoming dissatisfied with the lethargy of Congress in reference to preparing some financial relief for the country. Mr. Crutchfield, one of their representatives, says he is in receipt of letters showing great suffering on the part of many hard working men, who, on account of the monetary derangement, are deprived of labor by the manufacturing industries in the South and West suspending operations. Crutchfield says he is held responsible for the pledges he made that Grant and the Republican party would relieve the wants of the laboring man, as well as the farmer, from the difficulties under which he now labors in transporting his produce, and he further says his people write him that they expect Congress to give them financial legislation which is to make money easier, or there will certainly be a reaction. Mr. Crutchfield endorses these opinions of his constituents as his own.

Speeches on the Civil Rights Bill.

Now that the smoke of battle has blown over, the speeches on the civil rights question are being made the subject of criticism at the places where the political critiques and quid nuncs do most congregate. That of Mr. Stephens is characterized as an able effort in a constitutional way, that of Mr. Elliott as brilliant, that of General Butler as in his usual vim, and that of Judge Lawrence as involving all the legal points in the case. Considering the situation of the country at the present time, the speech of the latter gentleman contains all that was necessary to be said, without exhausting the patience of the members and the people.

Reduction of the Army Impolitic.

General Sherman and Adjutant General Townsend, having facilities by which the army is under their inspection constantly, have been given a free and thorough hearing by the House Military Committee in considering the proposition for a reduction of the army. Their arguments have convinced the committee that so great a change as contemplated is impolitic at this time, and it is not improbable that the committee will abandon their intention to reduce it at all.

Proposed Tennessee River Improvements.

Southern Representatives are agitating the question of an appropriation of $4,000,000 for the improvement of the Tennessee river. They assert that with this amount the river can be made navigable from its mouth up to Knoxville, and that the improvement will be permanent. The chances of receiving such an appropriation, however, are thought to be unfavorable.

Charges Against a Dacotah Judge.

Charges have been preferred to the President against Judge Barnes, an Associate Justice in Dacotah, by Mr. Burleigh, a delegate in Congress from that territory. The charges grow out of the assassination of Gen. McCook some time ago. The attorneys of Wintermute, the murderer, were allowed by Judge Barnes to challenge off jurors after they were charged and sworn. This act, it is claimed, was wholly illegal, hence the preferment of the charges. The President has referred the matter to the Attorney General.

Reorganization of the Treasury Department.

The Treasury Department will undoubtedly be reorganized if the Civil Service Committee can get to work this session. A bill to this effect is already before it, and members of the committee who have looked into the matter say that a reorganization is needed. The salaries of officials in the department need systematizing and made more uniform. A reorganization in the clerical force is required, and it will admit of cutting down in many instances, not only in the department proper, but in the many offices connected with the department and located outside in different sections of the country.

Pensions to Soldiers.

Judge Poland desires the Government to pension all soldiers in the war of 1812, no matter how short their period of service was. For this purpose he intends pushing his bill granting pensions to these revolutionary soldiers who served 14 days, and who have already received a bounty in the shape of a land warrant for 160 acres of land, the evidence on which these bounties was given to be sufficient in granting the pension.

Compensation for Feeding Union Soldiers.

An effort will be made shortly in Congress to secure a special law by which loyal southerners will be enabled to receive compensation for feeding the Union soldiers without being compelled to present the sworn affidavit of the officers in command, acknowledging the receipt of the supplies. These affidavits, it is said by southern Representatives, are impossible for the claimants to obtain for various reasons.

Homestead for Soldiers' Orphans.

Hon. Horace Maynard will, on Monday next, introduce a bill asking for an appropriation of $35,000 for the National Homestead for Soldiers' Orphans, at Gettysburg, Pa. The bill will probably be passed. DIAMOND.

THE RAILROAD WAR.

The Contest Between the Pennsylvania and Baltimore and Ohio Railroads.

The Baltimore American gives the following information concerning the contest now going on between the Pennsylvania and Baltimore & Ohio Railroads:

The railroad war continues with unabated vigor, and the contesting parties still evince a spirit of uncompromising hostility. The latest feature of the contest was an announcement by the Pennsylvania Railroad, on Wednesday evening, that tickets from this city to local points on the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad could be purchased at their offices in this city at much cheaper rates than if bought at the ticket offices of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad. This announcement, which was made through thousands of posters, created quite a sensation, as the public could not understand how the Pennsylvania Railroad could sell tickets over the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad at lower rates than the latter road.

Interviewing the Railroad Officials.

A reporter started out to see what the contesting parties had to say about it. Wending his way to the Camden station, the reporter turned his steps into the office of the President. The reporter went to Mr. Sharp's office, and found him hard at work, but not too busy to receive him politely and give him the desired information. The way the thing came about, he said, was that the Pennsylvania Railroad had bought up tickets over their road from Philadelphia to Pittsburgh for $5.50, a part of which was a ticket from Philadelphia to Baltimore, over the Philadelphia, Wilmington and Baltimore Railroad. This ticket the Pennsylvania Road kept, and sold the tickets from Baltimore to Pittsburgh. "At a profit?" said the reporter. "Yes," said Mr. Sharp; "they can make a profit at it." "What are you going to do about it?" said the reporter. "The thing will not last," said Mr. Sharp; "they have not many more of them. I don't think they can have much of a stock of them." Mr. Cole, the General Ticket Agent, who had come in during the colloquy, joined in the conversation, saying that they had no tickets at the Pennsylvania Road's office now. He knew several parties who had applied for tickets, but could not get them. The reporter then asked as to how the war had affected them. Mr. Sharp said "that their travel was largely increased, and that extra cars were even needed. Their receipts had actually increased, notwithstanding the great reductions, and they proposed to keep it up. Their road was more economically managed than the Pennsylvania Road, and they could live at the present rates. They did not care if it lasted six months. Their road would not submit to the dictation of any foreign corporation, and every officer of the company approved of their course, even President Garrett himself." "Don't you have trouble with the connecting roads about the rates?" said the reporter. Mr. Cole broke in and said that they had found the roads willing to make pro rata division; they all worked together. "I tell you one thing," said he, "rates are not going back to where they were before, anyhow. We are selling a great many tickets at all points; one man in Washington bought $1,000 worth. We do not, like the Pennsylvania Road, limit our tickets to a few days, but sell them good for any length of time. They are selling very freely out West. We don't object to it. Every one who buys up our tickets makes himself our agent, and advertises the road in selling them." The increase of travel brings custom to our hotels, said Mr. Sharp, and we can't see that we are being hurt any.

More Satisfied Officials.

Proceeding to the office of the Northern Central Railroad, on Calvert street, the reporter called on President Dubarry. The gentleman, as usual, was up to his official elbows in work, and said that he really had nothing on the subject that was not already known. Their travel, he believed, was good, although he had been too busy to notice particularly. It was true that they limited their tickets, for they were not engaged in railway speculation, but provided for the needs of the travelling public. He believed that the Pennsylvania Railroad would have plenty of the Baltimore and Ohio tickets.

The reporter then called upon Mr. Samuel T. Deford, Jr., the Southeastern agent of the Pennsylvania Railroad. He found that gentleman in as pleasant a mood as usual, and, upon inquiry, expressed himself as well satisfied with the state of affairs. They had had such a great demand for the Baltimore and Ohio tickets that they sold in about three hours in the morning. The reporter asked whether they had not refused some persons. Mr. Deford said that the only ones refused were parties who had been sent there by the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad people. They did not sell fifteen or twenty tickets at a time, but would always accommodate the traveling public. "We are selling plenty of them in Washington," said he, "and we will have another lot of them here to morrow." "Well, then," said the reporter, "you sell tickets to Pittsburgh over the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad fifty cents cheaper than over your own road?" "Yes, it's the way just now," said Mr. Deford. That ended the reporter's interview of the railroad officials, and he then proceeded to do some figuring on his own account.

How the Thing is Done.

The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, in order to carry the war into Africa, reduced their price from Philadelphia to Pittsburgh to $5.50. The tickets over the Philadelphia, Wilmington and Baltimore Road to Baltimore are sold to the public at $3.15, but information from the inside gives it, that by the arrangement between the railroads the rate over the Philadelphia, Wilmington and Baltimore Road is only $2.60. This makes a Baltimore and Ohio Railroad ticket from Baltimore to Pittsburgh cost the Pennsylvania Railroad $2.90, so that in selling the ticket at $3.50 they actually make sixty cents, while underselling the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad fifty cents on their own ticket. Those who buy tickets to Harper's Ferry, Martinsburg, Cumberland and other points named in the posters all receive tickets to Pittsburgh. It will be seen from the above that the railroad war is developing some curious facts, that it also presents the singular feature that everybody is satisfied. The officers of both roads say that they are both satisfied, the public is satisfied, as the contest reduces the rates, and so everybody is satisfied, and there is no reason why the fun should not go on.

POLITICAL.

The Virginia Senatorship.

RICHMOND, January 10.—Two sessions of the Virginia Conservative caucus for the nomination of a United States Senator were held to-day. The highest vote cast was for R. M. T. Hunter, who received 51 votes on the seventh ballot. The ninth, and last ballot, to-day resulted as follows: Lieutenant Governor Withers, 25; R. M. T. Hunter, 34; Jno. Goode, 22; James Barbour, 23; Judge Joseph Christian, 21; necessary to a choice, 63. The caucus adjourned till Monday.

Ohio Constitutional Convention.

CINCINNATI, January 10.—Efforts were made in the Constitutional Convention to adjourn till Tuesday, to attend the inauguration at Columbus, without success. There was reported an article to-day to give suffrage to women. The article is to be submitted to a separate vote of the people.

Legislative Caucus in Missouri.

ST. LOUIS, January 11.—A caucus of members of the Legislature, who are also Grangers, was held at Jefferson City last night. It is understood they resolved that railroads have no vested rights, and that corporations must submit to laws as govern individuals; that the National Bank law should be repealed; that the Government should issue its own currency, without the interruption of corporate bodies.

Politics in Kansas.

A dispatch from Leavenworth, Kan., says the general feeling among the best politicians and citizens generally there, as well as among the leaders of the farmers' movement, is that the leadership of the opposition in the Legislature this winter, which has been assumed by Colonel York and Clark, is unfortunate, and likely to prove disastrous to that party.

A dispatch from Topeka, Kan., says the opposition in the Legislature have disclaimed by resolution any intention to organize a new party. They have, however, organized a caucus irrespective of past or present party affiliations, and pledge themselves to retrenchment and reform.

MEMPHIS.

The Mardi Gras Carnival—Proclamation by the King of Mirth and Folly.

MEMPHIS, January 10.—The following proclamation will appear in the morning papers to-morrow:

Proclamation—Mardi Gras, February 17, 1874. Memphis.—King Carnival, in the plentitude of his power, acquired from illustrious ancestors, whose beginning is coeval with mirth, folly, relaxation and merriment, reappears and asserts his royal pleasure. Give ear to his edicts:

First—He will, on February 17th, 1874, the day called Mardi Gras by the vulgar, at his legal seat of Memphis, hold high carnival.

Second—He extends his gracious bidding to the gentle fair and their knights attendant over the broad land, and summons his loving followers to his Court. Let all be arrayed in sumptuous and eye startling apparel.

Third—He ordains that folly shall usurp the occupations of the day, and splendor make night as an illuminated easement, whilst the stars shall wink and hide the sable fringe of the sky. Laughter and amazement shall rule the hour.

Fourth—He commands, by virtue of his awful authority, all railway magnates and steamboat princes to forego sordid profit and reduce the usual charges to his royal city one-half. Let them tremble and obey.

Fifth—He orders, by supreme will, that his puissant and fortunate children of Mystic Memphis shall receive his royal guests with sumptuous rites and princely hospitality, that all may be welcome.

Done at his royal palace in his City of Memphis, the 3873d year of his reign.

(Signed) REX CARNIVAL.
Attest: MOMUS TYPHOON.

—Finlay, Lawson & Co., a branch of a Boston dry goods house in Albany, N. Y., is suspended, with $80,000 liabilities.

STATE ITEMS.

THE barn on Corrin's place, near Bellevernon, was burned down last week. Cause unknown; loss $600; insured for $500.

A SON of J. B. Foulke, of Bellevernon, had his skull broken recently by the kick of a horse, whilst sliding across the street.

A COAL miner, named Michael Saxton, in the employ of the Monterey Coal Company, near Steubenville, fell, while intoxicated, at the works, a few days since, and soon afterwards died from his injuries.

THE body of an unknown man was found in the Pennsylvania canal on Friday afternoon. Who he was, or where he came from, nobody knew. He had, apparently, committed suicide, as a large-sized stone was found in one of his pockets.

THREE persons, a boy named Mitchell, another name unknown, and John Sloss, an old citizen of Mercer, were drowned at Sharon, Wednesday morning, the ferry boat at State street having broken loose and run against a pier and capsized with thirteen passengers.

ON Sunday night a fire broke out in the Coltman Block in Shelby, destroying property to the amount of $20,000 to $30,000; the principal loser is J. E. Robinson, Hardware, $10,000; insured for $5,000; John Dempsey, $3,000; and others whose names are not reported, $17,000, with no insurance.

ONE night last week a dressed hog, weighing nearly two hundred pounds, the property of Mr. W. Travis, of Porter township, Jefferson county, and left in the barn of the Franklin House for safe keeping during the night, was carried off, together with a quantity of butter, articles that Mr. Travis had brought to market.

SOME scoundrels not only stole about a hundred bushels of corn from the barn of a man named Helsel, in Allegheny township, Cambria county, on the night before Christmas, but also cut the mouth of a valuable horse in a brutal manner, and then, it is supposed, administered arsenic to the animal, from the effects of which it died soon after.

JACOB FENSTERMACHER, of Lancaster county, on Friday, committed suicide, by hanging himself to a white oak tree. It seems that he was summoned as a witness at court, in a case in which he did not care to testify, so on the Lititz turnpike, he just picked out his tree when going to the Court House, fastened the rope around his neck, and swung himself into eternity. An inquest was held, and a verdict of wilful suicide rendered.

A MAN named John Kelly, residing near Shamokin, a few days ago, committed a deadly assault upon his wife on the public highway and left her to die. The woman was in the company of a man named Richard Edwards, who barely escaped with his life. The lifeless body of Mrs. Kelly was found along the side of the road next morning. She had been drinking with Edwards. She was about thirty years old, and leaves seven children, the youngest a babe of three months.

Two small boys, named Willie Davis and Andrew Grassart, aged seven and nine years, were drowned at Meadville on Thursday morning. William Grassart, the father of one of the boys, and Hugh McKay started for a boat ride, taking with them the boys named. The current struck the boat, overturning it and sweeping them down. Every effort was made by the men to save them, but without success. The bodies had not been recovered at last accounts.

ON last Sabbath, says the West Chester News, Mr. J. McFarlan, residing near Downington, witnessed a desperate, and what may be safely termed, novel conflict, while traveling on the Horse Shoe Pike, near Guthrieville. He first observed a large chicken hawk darting to the ground and repeatedly rising to the air. Upon his arriving closer to the scene, he was surprised at seeing a large blacksnake curled up in a fighting attitude, and as best he could, defending himself against the attacks of the hawk. The conflict continued half an hour, terminating in favor of the bird of prey, which, having killed the snake, seized it in his talons and bore him off, no doubt for a feast. The bird showed signs of being wounded.

A FATAL accident occurred at the Mapleton intersection with the Tyrone & Clearfield Railroad two or three mornings since. Conductor Kinkade's train was just getting under way, when George Hoover, a flagman, in attempting to get on one of the cars, slipped, and the force of the fall, in the sleety condition of the track, carried him under the moving train, with his hips resting on the rail. In this condition four of the heavily laden freight cars passed over him, severing his legs from his body. In the fall he broke his arm, which rendered it impossible for him to assist himself, or, perhaps, he could have gotten from under the cars, as they were moving slowly at the time. He was then taken to Philipsburg, on the gravel train, where he died shortly after. He leaves a wife and four children at Philipsburg.

OHIO ITEMS.

A DAUGHTER of Wm. Retter, of Spring Hill, O., was burned to death Wednesday afternoon by an explosion of a coal oil lamp which she was filling while it was burning. This is the second victim within a year in that vicinity.

WASHINGTON VERRY, a penitentiary convict, escaped from the Ohio Penitentiary on Thursday night last, but was thrown down by a large deer kept in the yard, and he would have been gored to death by the deer, but for the timely arrival of assistance.

STEPHEN SOULS, aged seventy, a resident of Jackson, Ashland county, and an early settler of that region, was found in a field frozen to death. He was subject to periods of derangement, and while thus afflicted wandered away from home took off his clothes and laid down and died.

THE Rev. J. M. Drake and wife, of Lima, Ohio, have just died from poisoning. They were preparing to paper a room in their house, and in tearing down the old paper, which was of a deep green color, a dust was created which was inhaled by them, and they were poisoned by it. They died within a short time of each other, and were buried on the same day.

A FEARFUL accident occurred at the new county jail, in Dayton, Saturday. While three men were at work nailing slate on the roof, the scaffolding gave way, and they fell on the stone floor, a distance of 40 feet below. Frederick Wiedner was instantly killed. Patrick Hopkins had his back broken, and received other fatal injuries, and John H. Smith was slightly bruised.

ABOUT 8 o'clock on Tuesday evening a rock weighing nearly a ton rolled from the hillside a short distance above the Cleveland & Pittsburgh Railroad depot, at Bridgeport, into the house of John Keohnlein, Sr. Mr. Keohnlein's father and wife were in the house at the time, and the rock broke in the side of the room in which they were sitting, and sank through the floor. A bedstead in the room was dropped with the floor to the ground. No one was injured.

WILLIAM A. OWESNEY, prosecuting attorney of Jefferson county, has had a writ of attachment served upon him for contempt of Court, in publishing a remarkable communication, charging the Court with gross malfeasance. Hon. J. H. S. Trainer has been appointed special prosecuting attorney to conduct the examination against Mr. Owesney. The difficulty grew out of the investigations into the affairs of the Commissioners' office, Mr. Owesney asking for the appointment on a committee of a certain gentleman, whereas Judge Miller appointed another.

WASHINGTON, January 11, 1874.

Opposition to Mr. Cushing's Confirmation as Chief Justice.

The principal topic of discussion to-night is Mr. Cushing's last nomination. This morning's Chronicle continues its opposition editorially, and republishes strong editorials from yesterday's New York Times and Tribune against the confirmation. The tone of Forney's Sunday paper is in the same direction. The objections raised were given in your Saturday's special. On the other hand, Ben Butler says Mr. Cushing's nomination is the best that can be made outside of Butler's immediate circle of friends. I am, however, unable to find a Republican who favors the confirmation, while scores are ready to predict a rejection.

War Claims—A Test Case.

The House Committee on War Claims will hear the argument to-morrow of an attorney for the Methodist Episcopal Church South in support of the claims of that Church for damage to its property in Nashville, Tenn., by United States troops during the rebellion. As this is a test case, much interest is manifested in regard to it. A large number of similar claims are before the committee.

Changing Congressional Rules.

The House Committee on Rules was in session yesterday, and adopted unanimously a new rule, the most important of any governing the House. Mr. Holman, of Indiana, offered a resolution that all private bills appropriating money should first be considered in the Committee of the Whole. The Committee on Rules, in considering the subject, have gone further, and enlarged the scope of the resolution, so that it covers all bills, general as well as private. This changes the whole manner of legislation, and brings every measure taking money from the Treasury directly before the House, where debate can be had on its merits. The House cannot well avoid adopting it.

Pennsylvania New Judicial District.

The bill before the House creating a new judicial district for Pennsylvania will go through this session, unless a movement is made to postpone action on it on account of the expense attendant upon its creation, of which there are now some indications. A new Court House would have to be provided and provision made for the appointment of a United States Marshal and other officers. The proposed new district comprises Dauphin, Northumberland, and all other counties along the Susquehannah river, embracing all the coal counties with the exception of Schuylkill.

Cuban Belligerent Rights.

The Committee on Foreign Affairs, in the House, has referred all bills and resolutions before it recognizing belligerent rights to Cuba to its chairman, Mr. Orth, who will take especial charge of that subject. If the disposition of the committee is favorable to this step in regard to Cuba it will soon be made manifest, as this committee will be called upon for reports early in February. Beyond this subject the committee has nothing of any interest in connection with foreign affairs before it. It may be proper to state, however, in this connection, that Mr. Orth is strongly opposed to the recognition of the Cuban Republic in any form. So that, unless there is some pressure from the House, the resolutions are likely to be shelved.

The School Land Bill.

It seems to be a foregone conclusion that any public measure affecting any considerable portion of the States, must inevitably lead to a prolonged discussion in Congress. The school land bill may be taken as an instance, and it is wonderful to see how many new ideas each individual member has on this vexed question, each one, too, being of vital importance. One is that the pendulum of the Constitution must swing as far in one direction as another, and that the passage of this bill will make it swing into the clutches of land speculators; and another, that the Constitution confers the right to dispose of the public domain for the benefit of the people. Throw in the large overplus of rhetoric and elocution absolutely necessary to garnish these ideas, and it may be readily inferred how slowly the Congressional world moves.

Educational Progress in New Mexico.

The Bureau of Education has received a report of the educational progress in the Territory of New Mexico from W. G. Ritch, Secretary of the Treasury. The report states that the new school law passed in 1872 has greatly popularized the cause of education and resulted in the establishment of 133 public schools, with an attendance of 5,625 pupils. The new law provides a fund of 25 per cent. upon the entire tax levy and one dollar poll tax on each male adult. There are 26 private schools, with an attendance of 1,370 pupils; 5 Indian schools, with 107 pupils. The Spanish language is the means of information in 111 of the public schools.

The Civil Rights Bill.

All opinions to the contrary, the Civil Rights bill will again be brought up. General Butler stated to a friend a few days ago that the only reason for recommitting the bill was to improve it by any amendments that may be beneficial. This is why, he states, it was referred, and not for the purpose of smothering it, as some have intimated.

Congressmen's Mail Matter.

The amount of mail matter sent out by members of Congress, through the House postoffice, averages about $500 per day. Each member receives on an average about twenty or thirty letters a day and as many newspapers. The soldier members receive more letters than other members, as they are constantly besieged by written applications from soldiers, requesting information concerning bounties, pensions, &c. A majority of the members receive a large number of newspapers upon which the postage is not paid, and when the postage account is made up, it will, if paid at all, come out of the contingent fund.

One of Mr. Seward's Protectors.

Mr. Hansel, an elderly gentleman, who was wounded at the late Secretary Seward's house while protecting Mr. Seward from assassination, is endeavoring to secure some reward from Congress. Judge Poland, who has the matter in charge, thinks Mr. Hansel entitled to some pecuniary recognition, as on the night of the assassination he was wounded, and in such a manner as to prevent him from attending to his duties at the State Department.

The Bankrupt Bill.

The Senate amendments to the House Bankrupt bill continue to grow in favor among members of the House, and the probabilities are that the bill as amended will pass that body. It is quite certain that a uniform system of bankruptcy is to be adopted by Congress, and that a total repeal of the law is out of the question.

Petition to Admit Colorado as a State.

Cheap Transportation Meeting.

A number of members of the House of Representatives met to-night in the room of the Judiciary Committee, in pursuance of a call numerously signed, to take into consideration the subject of cheap transportation. Representative Donnan, of Iowa, was called to the Chair, and Representative Barriere, of Illinois, and Hereford, of West Virginia, were appointed Secretaries.

Representative Holman alluded to the fact that during the last Congress the appropriations for rivers and harbors exceeded a little over five million dollars, and said it was currently reported that an effort would be made to reduce them this session to three millions. What was to be the policy of Congress on the subject of cheap transportation was a matter of great moment. If the appropriations are reduced, they might be applied to a few specific objects, where the money would be spent for the benefit of the people at large.

Representative Hurlbut, a member of the Committee on Railways and Canals, said he came here to receive information. There were before that committee projects involving the expenditure of one hundred and thirty million dollars. All of them had their friends. While many of these projects were local or sectional, some of them were national. Although in the section where he lived there was no immediate connection with the Mississippi river, yet that river was important to the agricultural interests of Illinois at large, and he, therefore, was in favor of the Fort St. Philip Canal. The improvement of the great lakes, and means of making navigation accessible to the sea, were second to none of the other schemes proposed for cheap transportation, which included the deepening of the St. Claire Flats and Niagara Canal. Then there was also a project for a canal across New York, to divert to the canal western produce which now sought an outlet through the St. Lawrence. Another scheme was the opening of the Tennessee river through various channels to afford some outlet to the Atlantic, so as to reach Georgia or South Carolina. There were other schemes of a like nature and importance. The cry of the West was for some immediate action on the part of Congress to relieve them from the endangerment from an overflow of the productions of the Mississippi valley. There was growing up a well founded complaint against the railroads. This had been growing for ten years, and had extended to other States. A sub-committee had reported to the general committee a bill which would be considered by them, providing for a board, with a view to reduce the exorbitant rates now charged by the railroads. He thought the committee would endorse this bill and report it next week. He was satisfied Congress could act upon this subject under the power to regulate commerce between States, and gave his views in favor of a freight railroad, 1,300 miles long, showing the great advantages which would result both to the Western producer and Eastern consumer, while the road itself would be a source of great profit. He could prove that with an enterprise of this character, there would be such a reduction of transportation rates as would enable us to successfully compete in the European markets with the wheat of the Black Sea and Mediterranean. A proposition to construct a double track road from some point on the Hudson to Council Bluffs, with branches to St. Louis and Chicago, had been made, but the projectors require the United States to guarantee the payment of the interest on certain of their bonds. He hoped in the course of a week to prepare a bill embodying in it a pledge of the credit of the United States, with such guards and guarantees as would prevent the occurrence of such impositions by railroads as those to which they were now subject.

Representative Hereford said, instead of voting to reduce, he should vote to increase the appropriations for rivers and harbors.

Representative McKee explained that when there was much talk about retrenchment, all knew that a good deal of money would be spent, for many members of Congress had bills prepared for buildings for their respective localities, and they would resort to "log-rolling" to pass them. The postoffice building in New York could be stopped. It cost cost four times as much as was required to complete the Fort St. Philip canal, so that the commerce of the Mississippi could reach the sea. He would say, in the words of another, "Let us place the money were it would do the most good." [Laughter.]

Representative Bass spoke of the importance of immediate relief by deepening the St. Claire flats and channels of the lakes and mouth of the Detroit river, which in all would not exceed two million dollars.

Representative Dobbins declared himself in favor of heavy appropriations, and complained of the delays and inefficient accommodations for stock from the West to the East.

Representative Luttrell was for compelling railroad companies to cheapen their freights, and would vote for every proposition to open up important rivers to commerce.

Representative Stannard felt gratified with the discussion. They had all received the light for which they came.

Representative Sener said his State had long been committed to cheap transportation, and would endorse any and every proposition having that object in view.

The meeting then adjourned to meet two weeks hence, when the Committee on Railways and Canals will have matured some practical measure which can be considered.

House Proceedings.

The session of the House to-day, Mr. Butler (Tenn.) in the chair, was given up entirely to speeches, by Mr. Arthur on Louisiana affairs, by Mr. Field on finance and currency, Mr. Vance on civil rights, Mr. Whitehead on tobacco tax, Messrs. Melish and Kelley on money of the United States, and Messrs. Cain and Crossland on civil rights.

Caleb Cushing's Nomination.

Caleb Cushing was congratulated by a large number of friends this morning on his nomination as Chief Justice. The General said he had no intimation of the President's intention until his name was sent to the Senate. He was reticent on the subject of his confirmation, but was assured of it by several prominent gentlemen who called.

Obituary.

Judge Dille, of Newark, Ohio, a clerk in the Internal Revenue Bureau, dropped dead to-night of apoplexy.

WASHINGTON, January 11, 1874.

Investigation Into the Cause of the Sinking of the Virginius.

The United States naval court, yesterday, examined Captain Whitney, to whom the Virginius was delivered at Bahia Honda, Lieutenant Marix, who commanded her from Bahia Honda to Tortugas, and Engineer Harris, who inspected her at the latter place. The object of the investigation was to ascertain the immediate and remote cause of the sinking of this vessel.

Captain Whitney testified that when he took charge of the steamer, there was no appearance of any leak. He considered her in a condition to make the voyage to New York in fair weather and in convoy of the Ossipee.

Ensign Calhoun, who was on board the Virginius, testified that considerable exertion was necessary to keep the vessel clear of water from her start from Tortugas. On December 23d, we signaled the Ossipee: "Can go no further north. Dock at Charleston." The Ossipee replied: "We are bound for Charleston." On December 24th the Chief Engineer of the Ossipee went on board the Virginius to inspect her boilers, the crown sheet of the after boiler having collapsed, and on the same day the Ossipee signaled: "We will continue up the coast." Her course was then changed to northward.

The remainder of the testimony confirms previous press dispatches.

Double Track Freight Railway from New York to the West.

Representative Hurlbut, of Illinois, a member of the Committee on Railways and Canals, will probably to-morrow introduce a bill, the features of which he forshadowed at a meeting of the friends of cheap transportation last night, for the construction of a double track freight railway from New York to Council Bluffs, with branches to Chicago and St. Louis, the railway to be constructed and operated by a corporation, under the auspices of the general Government, and controlled by a board of commissioners, the rates for transportation on cereals to be fixed at five mills per ton per mile for any distance over seven hundred and fifty miles, the entire length of road being fifteen hundred miles. For shorter distances than seven hundred and fifty miles the rates are to be a little more than five mills per ton per mile. The road is to be operated exclusively as a freight road for cereals, stock and other productions. The trains will move at the quickest but most economical rate of speed, which will be at least ten miles an hour. The cost of the road is estimated at one hundred and seventy-five million dollars, including the necessary rolling stock. The Government aid suggested is a guarantee of five per cent. interest on thirty million bonds. The capacity of the road will be sixty thousand tons a day each way. The Commissioners are to fix the various rates of transportation and make suitable provision for the care and safety of the freight carried. When the road shall earn beyond what is necessary for the payment of the interest on the capital stock and eight per cent. dividend, the rates of freight originally established are to be reduced.

LEGISLATURES.

Louisiana.

NEW ORLEANS, January 10.—The McEnery Legislature to-day adopted a resolution authorizing all members who may see fit to do so to absent themselves until such time as the Legislature shall not be prevented by federal authority from proceeding with its legislative business.

In the Kellogg Legislature the funding scheme recommended by Governor Kellogg, with the concurrence of the Chamber of Commerce, was passed by the Senate to-day, by a large majority. The bill provides for the funding, at the option of the holder, at the rate of sixty cents on the dollar, of all outstanding indebtedness of the State in the new consolidated bond, bearing seven per cent. interest, the exchange to be made in New York and Europe through agencies to be appointed. A tax of five and a half mills is to be annually levied to meet the interest on the new bonds, without further appropriation. The total taxation for all State purposes is limited to twelve and a half mills, and the debt is limited to the amount of the consolidation. All existing contingent liabilities of the State are repealed. The three constitutional ratifying provisions of this act were unanimously adopted by the Senate. The bill is expected to pass the House on Monday.

MONTANA.

Destructive Conflagration in Helena—The Loss Estimated at $850,000.

HELENA, MON., January 10.—A fire broke out about seven A. M. yesterday in the upper part of Chinatown. A heavy wind was blowing at the time directly toward the heart of the city, and the flames soon spread over the whole of Chinatown, and despite the heroic efforts of the firemen and citizens, they jumped Bridge street, thence down both sides of Main street, entirely destroying every building except Kessler & Mellor's saloon, until stopped by Meller & Roscraus' store and Bohm's old banking house. The east side of Clover street, and buildings between it and Main street, were also destroyed. Everything on Jackson street to the rear of the St. Louis Bridge Hotel was burned, and up the side of Wood street to the first cross street east of Main street. At one time it was thought the whole town would be laid in ashes. The total loss is estimated at $850,000.

DAVID A. GAGE, the Chicago defaulter, has been admitted to bail in the sum of $110,000,—about the equivalent, under a law requiring it,—to his supposed deficiency.

THE New York Herald's Washington correspondence claims that Butler's Civil Rights speech is a bid for the support of the South for the Presidency in 1876. He has other plans looking to the gaining of Northern strength.

THE Committee of Engineers who waited on J. Edgar Thomson, President of the Pennsylvania Railroad, were accorded a kind reception, and received assurances that so soon as the business of the road justified, the full rates of compensation would be restored.

THE article in reference to "Valley Forge," published in the GAZETTE a few days since, should have been credited to To Day, a Philadelphia publication, edited by Dio Lewis, Esq., as we are informed by a note from one of the proprietors. The fact is, To Day is not on our exchange list, and the article referred to was clipped from the columns of another paper, where it appeared, among other selections, without credit.

WE ARE glad to notice that those journals which regarded the meeting of the Legislature with most suspicion, are admitting the excellence of the start it has made. We really think that the present promises to be a model session of our State Legislature. If the indications we have are realized, this will be a model session—one worthy of being commemorated as not merely good in itself, but a first fruit of the new Constitution.

THE ex Empress Eugenie is likely to realize quite handsomely from the sale of a quantity of valuables seized at Pekin when that city was captured by the Anglo French army. The Council of State recognizes her right to the property, and the Government has under consideration whether to pay her $600,000 for it or surrender it to her. In the event of its being sent to England it is claimed that a much larger sum than that above named will be received for it.

WE advise those who live in rented houses not to be in a hurry about engaging their homes for the coming year. Rents are entirely too high in this city and its suburbs at the present. The prices of labor and of commodities have been reduced, and the market value of real estate has followed the current rule. This being the case, rents should not be based on a fictitious valuation, and should thus be reduced. If concerted action is taken by renters of homes, a reduction of rates must follow.

THE debate and amendments to the salary repeal bill, in the Senate, have resulted, thus far, in placing it precisely where the old law put it, with all the mileages, perquisites and advantages formerly enjoyed, except as regards the franking privilege. But as it was not finally disposed of, it will be hard to tell just in what shape it will leave the Senate, and be referred to the tender mercies of the House. When it is remembered that the bill sent to the Senate has been so sadly shorn, it will be hard to predict what the ultimate result will be.

WHATEVER may be the outcome of the nomination of Caleb Cushing for the position of Chief Justice, the criticisms based on age will not hold. The law in reference to the retirement of Justices of the Supreme Court is, that this privilege shall be accorded them at seventy years of age, and after ten years' service on the bench. To make age an absolute rule of judgment will not answer. There are those who at fifty are more worn and broken, mentally and physically, than others at eighty. Were we to object to his confirmation, it would be on political grounds,—his presumed entertainment of pernicious Democratic doctrine.

WE URGE upon all good citizens that a prompt movement is necessary to secure the right class of nominations to be voted for at the municipal election on the third Tuesday of February next. The people are ripe for revolt if the class of influences which have heretofore ruled in our municipal politics shall come to the front at this time. What the people need is a leader, or leaders, who shall realize the demands of the times. But, if the City Executive Committee of the Republican party will call a meeting, we have no fear but that the right class of men will be selected. This should be done. Whatever uncertainty there may be in the bill of Senator McClure, there should be preparations made, so that, if the election is held, bad nominations may not be sprung at the last moment. We urge this subject upon the immediate notice of our City Executive Committee.

THE New Jersey Legislature meets tomorrow. The Republicans have fourteen and the Democrats seven members of the Senate. In the House the Republicans have a majority of four, thus making eleven majority on joint ballot. John W. Taylor, of Newark, will probably be President of the Senate, and Garret A. Hobart Speaker of the House. A State Treasurer and Comptroller will be elected during the session, and a multitude of candidates is in the field. The present Comptroller will probably be re-elected. It is thought that the old war over railroads will be renewed—the general railroad law of last winter being very defective and requiring amendment. Once the work of amending is begun, and no one can predict the outcome. The work of the Commission appointed to amend the Constitution will be passed upon, and, it is thought, in some particulars unfavorably. A growing sentiment exists favorable to a Constitutional Convention, and a complete revision of the Constitution. This may yet be required.

CUSHING'S RECEPTION.

We said, in our allusions to the nomination of Caleb Cushing as Chief Justice, on Saturday, that it did not appeal to our sympathy, but did to our judgment. We observe that after the first surprise, the sober second thought of Senators in Congress, and the press, is to view it as a nomination not suitable to be made. What we said in opposition to his appointment to Madrid, is said by others with more intensity in relation to his nomination as Chief Justice. The Times and Tribune of New York speak of him as a secessionist and pro slavery Democrat. The World thinks him too old and too impetuous. The Washington Chronicle is extremely bitter in denunciation of the nomination. It is probable that the Senate will fail to confirm, on the ground of his political sentiments and his age. Without directly discussing the nomination itself further, there is a subject closely identified with it, upon which a few plain remarks seem to be called for.

President Grant should consult with Senators and men of experience in public affairs, as well as of long service in the party, concerning so important a nomination. He may or may not be guided by the advice he receives, but he should seek such advice. There is a feeling, somewhat developed in the party, that to be a Republican counts for much less in the President's estimation than it should. If this feeling gains, it is not too much to say that the present Administration of President Grant will do much toward breaking down the party which has honored him. We hesitated to bring the partisan aspect of Cushing's nomination forward; but now that it is developed, it is but just to say that, while politics should not govern in the appointment, it is but proper that a person so rankly proslavery as Cushing has been should not be obtruded on the party. We were, and are willing to yield much on account of the ability of the man, but as we intimated Saturday, we think there are men on the Supreme Bench more worthy the Chief Justiceship than is he.

THE NEW REFORM.

To those who have sighed over the fact that others were foremost in the reformatory movements of the age, and that they had missed the opportunity of standing in the forefront of some splendid agitation, we bring words of welcome. A new reform has been started in England, and by a lady,—a wealthy lady, at that,—and, so far, no one in this country has caught up the idea. It is a reform against gluttony. It originated from an invitation to a banquet to celebrate a local triumph, relating to a school question. Miss Sturge was invited, but declined, saying, in her note to the managers of the banquet: "I am afraid I have too much objection to celebration dinners to be able consistently to participate in yours. I do not think that they conduce to the national thrift and economy, in which I desire to see the ignorant, on whose behalf you have so ably fought the educational battle, trained by example as well as precept." Beginning thus, the young lady urges the battle forward, by voice and by precept. Here, then, is a chance. Is not gluttony a sin against the body, mind and conscience? Has it not wrought many evils? Did not Napoleon nearly lose one of his great battles through a fit of indigestion? Was not Reverdy Johnson fed on turtle soup till he was moulded to English views, and saw, as with turtle eyes, precisely what they wished him to see? And is not the official dinner popular among us? We receive a diplomat, a President, an author, a lecturer, a singer with a dinner. We thank God on the 27th of November with turkey. We hail the blessed Christmas festival with a similar oblation. We celebrate the birthday of our independence with a banquet. Does a venerable lawyer retire from the bar? Give him a dinner! Does a society observe its anniversary? It is by a dinner. Amity is illumined by burnt sacrifices of meat, and Charity goes hand-in-hand with the Glutton. Certainly, there is room in this country for just such a crusade as Miss Sturge has begun in England.

We rather like reformers. They make things lively. What a mass of facts, and what volumes of philosophy have been poured upon us to prove that the great necessity of the age is woman suffrage. What unbounded eloquence has been expended in behalf of politics being made to conform to certain moral and religious ideas. How many and wonderful are the reforms suggested. We do not oppose, but rather commend them. They stir up thought, bring out truth, and agitate. The right generally comes uppermost. sooner or later. Welcome, then, the reformer in matters of food. Who will be the banner bearer in this country?

THE WOMAN QUESTION.

Letter from Senator Sumner.

As will be seen by the following correspondence, Senator Sumner, of Massachusetts, declined to insert the little word sex in his Civil Rights bill:

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15, 1874.—Hon. Charles Sumner, U. S. S.: DEAR SIR—I have been waiting, with intense interest, the progress of your 'Civil Rights bill,' but find in it an omission which will bear heavily upon a portion of the citizens of the United States. Intimately connected, as woman is, with the law, and as much as it is for her interest to understand her rights under it, she is rigidly excluded from every law school in the land on account of her sex—even from the public law lectures of the District of Columbia, with the single exception of those of the law school of Howard University. Can you not amend, and let your bill read, 'race, color, sex or previous, &c.?' That one little word of three letters will call down upon your head many a blessing.

"Very respectfully,
"BELVA A. LOCKWOOD."

To which Mr. Sumner replies:

"SENATE CHAMBER, Dec. 29, 1873.—Mrs. Belva A. Lockwood: DEAR MADAM—In reply to your letter of Dec. 15, I have to say that the pending Civil Rights bill is supplementary to the existing law on that subject, and concerns only the denial of rights on account of 'race, color or previous condition of servitude.'

Faithfully yours, CHARLES SUMNER."

Concealed Weapons.

"There is no knowing what may turn up," especially in a horse hair sofa. In a small attic, says a Vienna journal, lived the family of a tailor who had died some weeks since in the greatest poverty and misery. The widow could not earn enough to support herself and her children, and was obliged to sell her furniture bit by bit to supply their needs. In her garret stood an old sofa, which had been given to her at her marriage by a relation long since dead. At length, even this valued hairloom had to go to the brokers. Two porters accordingly attempted to remove the sofa, but were unable to do so. The broker, who naturally feared that his bargain was stuffed with stone instead of horsehair, insisted on immediate investigation. To the surprise of all persons, the removal of a thick coating of the latter material brought to light about forty muskets, of the existence of which the owner of the sofa had no idea. Each musket was wrapped in a poster containing an invitation to join the students' legion, and bearing date "October 14 1848." An animated controversy is now in progress between the broker and the tailor's widow regarding the ownership of the property thus unexpectedly discovered.

Some Railroad Figures.

The whole railroad mileage in this country is 71,564 miles, with second track and sidings of 13,512 miles, making the total equivalent of single track 85,076 miles. The total number of locomotives is 14,223; of passenger train cars, including baggage, express and smoking cars, 13,725; of freight train cars of all sorts, 838,427; the total capital stock amounts to $2,072,251,954, or about $28 957 per mile; the total floating and funded debt, $1,999,741,597, or $27,957 per mile, and the total cost of railroads and equipments $3,728,416,958, or about $52,099 per mile. The total gross traffic of railroads for the latest year yet obtainable was $478,885,597, and the total net receipts, over and above operating expenses, were $174,350,913. These earnings, however, are based on 54,454 miles of road, that being the total for which earnings have been reported: and hence the net income of railroads applicable to the payment of interest and dividends amounted to about $3,201 per mile on the 54,454 miles operated.

Mr Colfax Saturated.

A bet was made by J. M. Studebaker with Mr. Pine, of South Bend, Ind., that at the trial of the waterworks in that city, a stream could not be sent into the belfry of the famous factory, a cow being the stake, and Mr. Colfax the referee. At the trial a few days ago Mr. Studebaker and the ex-Vice President ascended to the open belfry while Mr. Pine handled the hose, and the result was that the bettor and his referee were most severely ducked and saturated. The bet was paid, the quiet bovine being gaily decked and decorated with ribbons and led to Mr. Pine's residence, preceded by a band of music, and duly delivered. Mr Pine now donates the cow to the Ladies' Benevolent Aid Socity, to be sold for the benefit of the poor.

A MISSOURI paper says: "The custom of putting powder in sticks of wood for your neighbors to steal is an old and barbarous one, and when we passed by a house the other morning, and saw the family shivering out in the yard over a broken stove, and heard the children crying for breakfast, our heart was filled with bitter reflections on man's inhumanity to man."

ITEMS OF INTEREST.

THE Senatorial contest in Virginia is becoming quite exciting. The election takes place on the 13th inst., (to-morrow).

THE war bounty debt of the State of New York is reduced to $11,330,000. The general funded debt of the State has been practically extinguished. The entire funded debt of the State is reduced to $21,191,000.

AN Indian doctor in Washington Territory was recently unfortunate enough to have a patient, (a squaw) die under his treatment. As he was too poor to compensate the husband for his loss, the latter balanced the account by shooting the doctor.

AMONG the antiquities disposed of at a sale last week at Gordonsville, Va., were a bedstead that had belonged to Marie Antoinette, a chair once owned by General Washington, a piano once the property of John C. Calhoun, and many articles which formerly belonged to President Madison.

A VAST number of fish are being caught this winter out of the Mississipi river, near Dubuque. One man caught 250 pounds with a hook New Year's Day. Another man captured 5,000 pounds at one haul of the seine near Lansing. A car load of fish were brought to Dubuque on New Year's Day.

NEW YORK'S canals last year cost $190,023.99 more than was derived from them. Out of the fourteen canals owned by the State, only four returned a profit, the total amount being $994,525.64, of which the Erie contributed $993,449 07. At this rate, how long will it take the empire State to pay off its canal debt of $10,000,000?

A VERDICT of $2,500 recently given in Scotland in a breach of promise suit brought by Mrs. Janet Honeyman, a widow of 29, against W. Home, a spirit merchant of 50, who broke off the engagement because the plaintiff insited upon her mother living with her after the marriage.

THE message of the Brooklyn Mayor reports the debt of that city at the close of last year at $27,431,941.57, an increase during 1873 of about two and a half millions. There are in the sinking fund securities and money valued at 42,908,435.87. He gives to the City Council the wise advice not to permit any further increase of the indebtedness, but to stop, and pay.

M. FRANCONI, the Parisian circus man, has brought an action for 10,000 francs damages against the proprietor of a cafe concert for announcing the exhibition of a double-headed, four-legged, bibrachiate woman. The phenomenon proved to be two women strapped together. The plaintiff bases his claim on the fact that this sham monstrosity threw a $2,000 slur on the four-legged woman he claimed to possess.

FLOWERS at funerals have lost the very first essential of beauty when they are given because they are expected. The baskets and crowns and flower pieces that appear at funerals ticketed with the name of the sender, have the flavor of quid pro quo about them that dims the glory of the gift. It is as if there were an obligation like this implied: "We have sent flowers to your funeral; when we have one please return."

THE total value of domestic produce of all kinds exported to foreign countries from Boston during the year 1873 was $30,260,293, against $21,821,029 for 1872. The exports of foreign merchandise for 1873 amounted to $2,345,875, against $1,992,436 for 1872. The figures show a gain in 1873 of $8,439,264 on domestic produce and $258,439 of foreign merchandise, making the total increase $8,892,703 as compared with 1872.

THERE is a colony of wild horses numbering about 500 on the island of Chincoteague, about ten miles off the coast of Maryland. They are ponies, and descended from a pair thrown upon the island from a wreck 200 years ago. They are little fellows, and have been considered worth very little until recently, but now the people claim ownership in them, and once a year brand all the colts they can catch, and use the horses for light work.

THE school of Agassiz and others have been giving Darwinism the hardest blows possible, and not wholly without effect. But an unexpected ally to the British scientist has sprung up in the land of the Moor. At the Jardin d'Acclimation in Paris, we are told on the best of authority, that there is a Morocco mule with foal, sired by an Arab horse. The natives of that land, never having heard of Darwin, but having an old proverb that when the mule shall produce young men will become women and women men, undertook to kill the dangerous innovator. But the authorities interfered, and the birth of the foal was officially recorded. This young data of Darwinism is about six months old, healthy, well formed, and a female. Now we have only to wait and see if this phenomena itself will be fertile; if so, we have a new species among animals.

PERSONAL.

GENERAL S. B. MAXEY is mentioned as Senator Flanagan's successor in the United States Senate from Texas.

"CITIZEN" Genet, of revolutionary days, died in 1834. A biographical sketch of him says he was "a source of great annoyance to Washington."

THE statue of Gen. Kearney has been found so defective that the Governor of New Jersey will probably refuse to sign the order for payment.

THE London Times closes its obituary of Agassiz thus: "In Agassiz the world has lost a philosopher and naturalist whose name will be remembered along with those of Buffon, Cuvier, and Humboldt, and of whom both his native Switzerland and his adopted America might well be proud."

NEAL DOW, who has said a great many queer things in the United States, is saying some very disagreeable things in Scotlond. At a temperance meeting in Edinburgh he asserted that "the Presbyterian Church of Scotland was the main bulwark of drunkenness there." Having stood Sergeant Bates, the Scotch were prepared for Dow.

CAPTAIN GLOVER, who figures so prominently in the Ashantee war, is the son of the Rev. Mr. Glover, who for many years was English chaplain at Cologne, and is the inventor of many mechanical appliances used on board British ship of war. He lost two brothers during the New Zealand war, both being killed on the same day at the fatal attack on the Gate Pah.

MADAME LE VERT has in her possession a beautiful miniature of her grandfather, George Walton, of Georgia, painted nearly a hundred years ago by the celebrated Earle. Colonel Walton was one of the three signers of the Declaration from Georgia. His two associates, Burton Gwinette and Lyman Hall, both died childless, while Colonel Walton had two children, Madame Le Vert and her brother, and their offspring are, therefore, the only descendants of the Georgia signer of the Declaration.

WM. M. TWEED is proving himself a very capable assistant of Dr. Partridge at the penitentiary. The Doctor says he has never seen a more faithful orderly in the place than Tweed. He is as much in earnest and as thorough in his work as he was in other and brighter days when he was Tammany's chieftain, and none of the sufferers in his care are neglected by him. It is astonishing, the keepers say, to see how active he is. When a convict is carried in with a crushed foot or injured in any way, Tweed loses no time in attending to him. He carries a little book which contains the names of the patients and the physician's instructions about the time when medicine must be given them or when a bandage or plaster should be removed and others applied.

THE old claim to the throne of England, via the old scandal about George III. and Hannah Lightfoot, the Quakeress, comes up once more. Several years ago, one Mrs. Rives aspired to Victoria's royal chair and other regal furniture. She has since died, and the claim with her. She possessed papers that some of the strongest lawyers in England did not dare deny gave her a valid claim to the crown of England; papers proving a regular marriage between the King and the Quakeress, and recognizing their legitimate descendants. Now comes Thomas Frederick Guelph, "Duke of York, and rightful and lawful descendant by the legal marriage" referred to and revives this claim. In addition to this claim he asserts that he alone is entitled to be called Prince of Wales, as his mother's father, David Davies, a Prostestant clergyman excommunicated a year ago, though dead many years, by a London ritualistic priest, was the last male descendant of Llewellyn, the last King of Wales.

WHY, YOUR HAIR IS GREY!

If you would obviate your hair turning grey, use Mrs. A. Wanner's SEPIA, a water color. It is an elegant dressing, which does not clog up the pores of the skin, but makes the hair wavy and glossy, contains no lead or other poisonous minerals, and is nicely perfumed. Sold at the family store of Corner Penn avenue and Sixth street.

THE LITTLE GIRL WHO WOULD'NT EAT CRUSTS.

The awfulest times that ever could be
They had with a bad little girl of Dundee,
Who never would finish her crust.
In vain they besought her,
And patiently taught her,
And told her she must.

Her grandma would coax,
And so would the folks,
And tell her the sinning
Of such a beginning.
But no, she would'nt,
She could'nt, she should'nt,
She'd have them to know—
So they might as well go.

Now what do you think soon came to pass?
This little girl of Dundee, alas!
Who would'nt take crust in the regular way,
Sat down to a feast one summer's day;
And what did the people that little girl give,
But a dish of bread pudding—as sure as I live!

Floating Metals.

Miners in Nevada tell us that the divisibility of quicksilver is so great that particles of it float down the clearest streams, invisible to the eye, and yet large enough to contain still smaller particles of gold or silver, or both. The presence of the floating metals is shown by deposits made on copper vessels, sunk in the streams where, in a few months, hundreds of dollars worth of quicksilver is collected. In photograph galleries silver and gold float off in the water used for washing pictures, and are gathered by provident workmen to be again used in the making of pictures. Infinitely small as the particles of precious metals are that float in clear water, invisible to the eye, they have, in the aggregate, great commercial value, and are, to some extent, typical of invisible particles of one's income that are carelessly allowed to float away on the stream of waste, when, with a little care, they might be made into "deposits" of an aggregate value that would surprise even a statistician.—Phila. Ledger.

TO RUPTURED PEOPLE.

To the general public the subject of rupture or bubonocele is a matter of very little interest. To one-sixth of the male portion of the community, however, it is a matter of grave and serious import, as that proportionate number are afflicted with that direful malady. Many of those afflicted are hardly aware of the fact that they are so; and there are others again who are apt to mistake rupture for some other disease, and again some other disease for rupture. In a displacement of the kind of which we are writing it is a serious fault to be in error. A delay of one day in procuring medical relief has often been at the expense of a life. Those who read this, will thank us for the knowledge of the fact, that there is a relief in every case, and a cure in many cases, in which a cure may be thought impossible. We invite all persons who are ruptured or who suspect themselves to be so, to call and procure the right kind of an appliance or ascertain if an appliance is necessary. Said book or books, as soon as printed shall be submitted to the Finance Committee for inspection. When approved by said Committee, the bonds in said book or books shall be signed by the Mayor, and said book or books shall then be delivered by the Controller to the Treasurer, who shall receipt for the same, and said book or books shall remain in the custody of said Treasurer until all the bonds are sold.

SEC. 2. All sales of Bonds shall be negotiated by the Controller, by and with the advice and approval of the Finance Committee, and whenever any bonds are sold the Controller shall notify the Treasurer in writing thereof, stating to whom sold, the price and amount; whereupon such bonds so sold shall be signed by the Treasurer and countersigned by the Controller, and the Treasurer shall receive the proceeds and deliver the bonds to the purchaser. The said Treasurer shall submit the bond books to the Finance Committee at each regular monthly meeting for their inspection.

SEC. 3. The Controller shall open an account charging the Treasurer with the amount and number of the bonds contained in any book furnished to him as aforesaid, and shall also charge said Treasurer with the amount of money received from the sale of bonds and submit an account thereof to the Finance Committee monthly.

SEC. 4. The Controller shall also keep a separate account of all the bonds now outstanding, or hereafter to be issued in a book specially provided for that purpose.

SEC. 5. The Chairman of the Finance Committee shall appoint a Committee quarterly, consisting of three members of said Committee who shall audit the Bond Account and make a report to Councils quarterly thereon.

SEC. 6. That so much of any ordinance as may conflict with or be supplied by the foregoing, be and the same is hereby repealed.

Ordained and enacted into a law, this 30th day of December, A. D. 1873.

Latest Advices Concerning Money and Stock Matters.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
SATURDAY EVENING, January 10, 1874.

From every direction we hear of an improved condition in the money market, and the indications are that affairs will continue to rapidly improve. Good paper is coming into demand, and we hear of several banks who have a surplus of funds. There is no doubt that in a short time there will be a larger amount of funds on hand for investment than ever before, and this will tend to stimulate all branches of business.

In New York to-day stocks have tended to rather lower figures, almost the entire list closing at lower figures than the opening. As a rule, however, stocks are usually lower on Saturday than upon any other day, and this decline is probably only temporary.

The New York bank statement is as follows:

Loans, increase.......................$ 4,594,600
Specie, increase........................ 4,283,500
Legal tender, increase................. 4,468,500
Deposits, increase..................... 14,268,500
Circulation, decrease..................... 17,000

This is very favorable and indicates a great plenty of money.

In Philadelphia to-day stocks have been well maintained; Pennsylvania Central being 48⅜ and A. V. R. R. 7-30s, 90.

In gold to-day there has been an upward movement, the price reaching 111⅞ and closing at 111¾.

NEW YORK, January 10, 1874.

Money was easy at 5@6 per cent. Foreign exchange closed firm at 483@483½ for prime bankers' sixty days' sterling, and 486½@487 for demand. Gold closed at 111¾, after selling at 111⅝@112. The rates paid for carrying were 7, 6, 5, 4, 3 and 7 per cent. gold, and for borrowing flat. The Treasury operations for the week at the New York office included the disbursement of $6,724,736 gift for interest and in redemption of 5-20 bonds, and the receipt of $2,265,000 for customs. The specie shipments for the same time were $40,447, principally in silver bars. The imports of dry goods amounted to $694,234, and merchandise $5,658,840. Governments closed firm. State bonds were quiet and nominal. Railway and miscellaneous speculation opened buoyant at an advance over last night's closing prices of ½ to 1½ per cent. In many cases the highest prices of the week were made, Western Union reaching 80. Shortly before the first Board the market weakened and prices receded ½ to 1½ per cent., but this was subsequently recovered in several instances, the bank statement imparting much strength to the market. The dealings in Western Union were unusually heavy early in the day, and business in all favorite shares was larger than on any previous day of the year. After the second board there was another reaction, but the market at the final close was firm in tone. The total sales were 226,000 shares, of which 47,000 were Western Union, 52,000 Union Pacific, 11,000 Wabash, 14,000 Pacific Mail, 25,000 Ohio, 16,000 New York Central, 9,000 Milwaukee & St. Paul, 25,000 Lake Shore, 3,000 Hannibal & St. Joseph, 6,000 C. PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
SATURDAY, January 10, 1874.

Trade in the general produce market has not been very active this week, at least it was so generally reported by dealers, owing in part to the very unfavorable weather, but it is hoped and expected that there will soon be a change for the better: for the present the demand for almost everything in this line is restricted entirely to supplying immediate wants: people seem to be curtailing their expenses as much as possible. The outlook, however, is encouraging; money matters continue to improve, confidence is steadily being restored, and it is thought that nearly all the large manufacturing establishments in this vicinity will be in full blast within the next thirty days, thereby furnishing employment to thousands of men, who have either been idle or working half time for some time past.

APPLES—Sales in a jobbing way at $3@4, as to quality.

APPLE BUTTER—65@75c ₩ gallon.

BUCKWHEAT FLOUR—3½@4c.

BEANS—$2@2.25 ₩ bushel.

BUTTER—The inquiry, especially for the finer grades, is better, but prices remain unchanged: 28@30 for prime to choice roll.

CRANBERRIES—$10@13 ₩ brl.

CHEESE—Prime Ohio Factory is still quoted at 14½@15 in a jobbing way, and market firm.

CARBON OIL—Standard brands quotable at 11½@12c by the carload, and 1@2c additional for smaller lots.

DRESSED HOGS—6@6½c per lb.

DRIED FRUIT—Firm and in light supply. Apples, 6@8c. Peaches, halves, 10@12; peeled, 18@20. Blackberries, 13@15.

EGGS—The arrivals are slacking off somewhat, but the supply is in excess of the demand, and prices remain unchanged, pickled, 18@22, and fresh at 27@28.

FLOUR—Is firm at the recent advance. We continue to quote at $7.25@7.75 for spring wheat flours, and $8@8.50 for red winter winter wheat. Rye Flour, $5.25@5.50.

GRAIN—Wheat is still quoted at $1.58@1.60 for red winter; $1.63@1.65 for amber, and $1.68@1.70 for white—the offerings continue very light. The Oat market is weaker under the influence of increased receipts and offerings, although unchanged, 50@52. Ear Corn is scarce and selling on wharf and track at 70@72. Shelled is quotable at 70@72 for new, and 75@77 for old. Rye is more inquired for, and there is very little in this market; we continue to quote at 90@95. Barley is quiet and unchanged.

GROCERIES—There is a continued steady demand for the leading staples, and prices are firm but unchanged. Trade has been better since the close of the year, and but for the inclement weather and bad condition of the country roads, there is no doubt but what it would have been still better; our merchants are expecting a good trade for some time to come, and in view of the fact that stocks in the hands of retailers generally were very much reduced at the close of the year, and money matters are improving, there is no good reason apparent just now why their expectations should not be realized.

SUGARS.—Patent Cut Loaf, 12c; Crushed, Powdered and Granulated, 11 to 11¼; Standard A. 10¾; B, 10½; Ex. C, 10¼; Circle C, 10; Franklin Extra C, 9¾; Franklin No. 2 Extra C, 9; Yellow Sugars, 8 to 9, as to quality.

COFFEE.—Choice Rio, 31@32; good to prime, 30@31; fair, 28@30. Roasted 1 pound packages, 34c; loose, 33½.

MOLASSES—Strictly prime new crop New Orleans, 75c; fair to prime old, 65@70.

SYRUPS—Extra White Drips, 70c; Sugar Drips, 60c; Amber, 60@65; lower grades, 35@40, as to quality.

RICE—Choice Carolina, 9c; Patna, 8½c; Rangoon, 7½@8c.

HOMINY—$4.75@5.25 ₩ brl.

HAY—Continues dull, and notwithstanding the arrivals within the past few days have been comparatively light, the supply is still in excess of the demand. We continue to quote at $18@23 ₩ ton, according to quality.

ONIONS—$5@7 ₩ brl.

POULTRY—As the weather is growing colder, an improved demand is not improbable. We continue to quote dressed Chickens at 10@12. Turkeys, 15@16.

POTATOES—Prime Peach Blows, still quoted $1.10@1.12 per bushel by the car load, and $1.20@1.25 in a jobbing way.

PROVISIONS—Extra Sugar Cured Hams, ₩ lb. 12¾. Ex. Sugar Cured Shoulders, 9¼; Sugar cured Breakfast Bacon, 11½c. Extra Sugar Cured Dried Beef, 16. Beef tongues, $7.50 ₩ dozen. Bacon Shoulders, per lb, 8½c. Bacon Rib Sides, 8¾c. Bacon Short Rib Sides, 9c. Bacon Clear Rib Sides, 9¼c. Mess Pork, $16.75 per barrel. Refined Lard for summer use, in tres, 10¾. Do. half bbls, 10⅞c. Do. bkts 11¼c. Do. in 3 lb. caddies, 12c. Do in 5 lb. 11¾c do. in 3 lb. pails 13c ₩ pound. Do. in 5 lb. pails, 12¾. Do in 5 lb. pails, 13¼. Ham Sausage, 10.

RAGS—Quoted at 2½@3c.

SALT—Is quoted at $1.60 ₩ brl. by the car load, and $1.85 in a jobbing way.

SEEDS—Flax Seed is firm and tending upward: $1.85@1.90 per bushel.

TALLOW—Quoted at 6¾@7.

WHISKY—Highwines, $1@1.02 ₩ gallon.

PITTSBURGH LIVE STOCK MARKET.

CENTRAL STOCK YARDS, EAST LIBERTY,
SATURDAY, January 10, 1874.

ARRIVALS.

Following were the arrivals of the different kinds of stock for the week, and to afford a comparison we append those of the week preceding also:

	This week.	Last week.
Cattle	444 cars	127 cars
Hogs	188 "	55 "
Sheep	57 "	16 "
Horses	6 "	3 "
Mules	6 "	"
Total	701 "	201 "

CATTLE.

The market opened dull and dragged up until Wednesday noon; buyers were unwilling to take hold unless at a sharp reduction, and this, for a time, sellers were unwilling to make. On Wednesday afternoon, however, some holders became restive, they were tired of holding here and did not care to take the risk of shipping on any further east, and from then until Friday noon business was moderately active—the sales for the entire week footed up about 2,200, of which close on to three fourths changed hands during the time in question. To day there were but few cattle in the yards, those that were not sold having been shipped on in first hands, and these, we understand, embraced most of the best cattle; there were quite a number of droves of prime to extra southern Ohio steers, the owners of which were unwilling to sell at prevailing prices. Some salesmen quoted a decline of ⅞c ₩ cwt, as compared with last week, while others did not think it exceeded 50; there is no question, however, but what the market was a hard one for the selling interest, the worst we have had for a month or more. Quotations for the different grades may be fairly given as follows:

Extra 1,500 steers	6.25@6.35
Prime 1,400 steers	5.75@6.00
Prime 1,100@1,200 steers	5.25@5.50
Good 900@1,100	4.50@5.10
Old cows, bulls, etc. etc.	3.00@3.50

Last week there were sales as high as 6.90@7c this week there were but very few sales rising above 6c, although we did hear of 6¾ having been bid for two cars of extra, but at the close 6½ may be regarded as the top of the market. The great proportion of the cattle sold here this week were bought for shipment to Philadelphia. There has been but little inquiry on New York account recently. Simon Ulery bought two cars for that market, and we heard of no others.

HOGS.

The market was dull and somewhat depressed from Monday up until Thursday, the increased receipts and soft wet weather, together with unfavorable reports from the east, having curtailed the demand. On Thursday there was a reaction, and with a change in the weather, causing an increased demand, the market has stiffened up, and prices have advanced from 10@15c ₩ cwt. Extra Philadelphia hogs, which on Tuesday and Wednesday were dragging at 5.70@5.75, brought 5.90 to-day, and will probably go to 6c on Monday, unless the arrivals in the meantime are larger than expected. Yorkers, 5.40@5.60, as to quality. We understand there were hogs in the to-day pens unsold that have been there all week, the owners refusing to have them sold at prevailing prices. They may hold on for another week, and then be obliged to sell at prices no better than those that could have been obtained when they first arrived, losing feed bills, perhaps, shrinkage in weight and other expenses. As a rule, this thing of holding hogs here for any length of time with corn at $1.00 per bushel, don't pay.

SHEEP.

The arrivals were considerably larger than for several weeks past, and dealers generally reported trade as having been slow and rather unsatisfactory, although there was but little change in prices. Fine wool may be quoted as follows: Extra 100 lbs, 6c; prime, same weight, 5½; prime 90@95 lbs, 5¼@5½; 80@85 lbs, 4¾@5¼; 70@75 lbs, 3¾@4½. Extra open wool, 120@130 lbs, 6¼@6½; 100@110 lbs, 5½@6. Nearly all the regular eastern buyers, quality being equal, are taking open wool in preference to fine, the objection urged against the latter being that they are to small.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
SATURDAY, January 10, 1874.

The Crude market has been very firm and somewhat excited during the week which has just closed, and prices have further advanced; quoted at $1.15@1.25 per brl. at Parker, according to pipe line, equal to about 3⅜@3½c ₩ gallon delivered here, the highest prices touched for several months. As compared with thirty days ago, there has been an advance of 40 to 45 c per brl or a full cent per gallon, and the most remarkable feature connected with this advance is that it occurred at a time when it was least expected. It was thought by the trade generally that the market would rule low in January from the fact that the consumption is usually light at this particular time, and it is evident from the decreased receipts recently that our refiners are taking hold sparingly, but the very reverse of this has been the case thus far. However, it is said that tankers have been buying freely, and then development is reported almost at a stand, scarcely any new wells having been commenced recently; in addition it is claimed that the production is falling off, all of which is not without its effect in stimulating the market.

The refined market continues dull; it has not as yet responded to the sharp advance in Crude, and it is evident that exporters will have to set their ideas up considerably if they desire to buy. As yet there has been no improvement in prices; they are just about where they were prior to the advance in the raw material, notwithstanding the latter has gone up a full cent per gallon. Quoted at 13½@13¾ for January, delivered in Philadelphia, although there are no sellers here at these rates; some of our refiners are asking as much as 11½@12 on cars here, which would be equal to 14½@15 delivered in Philadelphia. It is probable, however, that the market will assume a more settled position within the next few days.

The market for oil barrels continues quiet and unchanged; we continue to quote at $1.85 for countries, and $1.90 for city make.

New York Iron Market—Weekly Review.

NEW YORK, Jan. 8—American Pig—There is little or no change in the aspect of affairs. Makers and buyers seem equally indifferent. Holders and makers have great faith in the future, and confidently anticipate that prices will open about $38. Some of the more sanguine talk of $40. Consumers, on the other hand, hold up dull trade, scarcity of money among their customers and slight embarrassments in the management of their business. For the present there is little doing. The companies refuse to make contracts except for the immediate future, and for such there is but small demand. The Thomas Iron Co. quote us, for prompt delivery, as follows: No. 1 extra $36, No. 2 extra $33, Gray Forge $31. We learn that a number of furnaces on the Lehigh are being blown in, and the prospect of iron opening at a decidedly profitable price makes it probable that others will follow. No. 1 extra Foundry Iron can still be bought at $35, and it is not believed that any considerable quantity has been sold at a higher price. We quote No. 1 extra $35@36, No. 2 extra $32@33, Gray Forge at works $27@29. White and Mottled at works, $24.00.

Scotch Pig—The market is very firm, late arrivals amounting to 1,200 tons, having all been stored, the dullness of business causing few inquiries, and importers not seeming disposed to force their stock on the market. We quote Gartsherrie $47@48, Coltness $45, Glengarnock $42, Eglinton $41.

Bar—The mills are better supplied with orders, and are firmer in their views. We quote for Eastern mills at 3@3¼c per pound. The latter figure is insisted on by some of the largest makers.

Rails—There is more inquiry for Rails, but prices remain quotable from $55@60 ₩ ton, gold. The larger part of the rails in this market are held at the higher figure, but others can be had at $55, or possibly a shade less. We quote American at works at $60@65, currency.

Old Rails—We quote Old Rails $40@41.

Scrap—Wrought scrap from yard is held more firmly. We quote from $42@43, and hear of offerings all the way between these figures—Iron Age.

Baltimore Coffee Market.

BALTIMORE, January 10.—There has been considerable activity this week in Coffee, and the market has throughout been very strong and buoyant, the sales showing a further advance in prices. The sales for the week add up about fourteen thousand bags, viz.: three thousand five hundred Rio ex "Mary," at 26¼ c. three thousand do ex "Cricket"—a prime cargo—at 27 c, both sold to New York. 780 do ex "Aquidneck," at 25½ c. one thousand two hundred do same cargo, sold to-day for New York at 27¼c. all gold, two thousand five hundred do ex "Grey Eagle," three hundred and ninety do ex Shepherdess, and two thousand do ex Clifton a resale all on private terms, and we note also a resale of five hundred bags do ex Mary, to go west, at 27¼c. gold. The market closes very strong indeed, and we quote to-day as follows for cargoes, viz Ordinary Rio, 24@24½c; fair do 25@25½c; good do, 26@26½c; prime do 27@27½c, and for jobbing lots prices range from 24½ to 28½c all gold. The imports this week are two thousand nine hundred and forty bags Rio per Aquidneck, four thousand one hundred and fifty bags do per Lapwing, one thousand and fifteen hundred bags do per May Queen, eight hundred bags do per Mindora,—total, nine thousand three hundred and ninety bags; and the stock today in first hands is about eleven thousand eight hundred bags.—Gazette.

RIVER NEWS.

State of the Rivers, Movements of Steamboats, &c.

The weather continues cloudy and cold, with an occasional spitting of snow; wind northwest. Stage of water last evening about 12 feet, and falling. Business was moderately active at the landing on Saturday.

There have been no arrivals or departures since our last, excepting towboats. The Juniata from Cincinnati is due to-day, and, as will be seen by reference to card, she is announced to depart on Wednesday.

The Exchange, while backing out from the wharf on Friday evening, come in contact with the stern of a boat moored alongside, causing her to break her cams, and delaying her several hours until new ones were procured.

The R. W. Skillinger, Capt. J. T. Russell, will be the next packet out for Cincinnati, leaving tomorrow evening without fail, and passengers and shippers should bear this in mind.

The following towboats departed since the date of our last report: Whale, Lake Erie, Joseph A. Stone, Stella, Bengal Tiger, Ella, Mary Ann, and Blue Lodge.

In United States Circuit Court on Saturday injunctions were granted by Hon. Judge McKennan restraining the following parties from infringing Captain John S. McMillin's steam capstan patent: Joseph P. Dunlevy and John B. Conway, owners of steamboat Esperanza; Wm. Neal and Wm. Oliver, owners of steamboat Lake Erie No. 3; E. R. Eisey, George W. McCracken and William H. Riddle, owners of steamer Iron City; James Reese, Henry Rothrauff and S. Roberts and Co., owners of steamboat Little Andy Fulton.

The Messenger is announced for St. Louis forthwith, as is also the Ironsides for New Orleans.

The owners of the defunct Little Whale, it is said, will build for machinery.

—The St. Louis Democrat says: Captain A. J. Carter and others wonder why government river improvers do not remove the wreck of the Glendale, sunk above Cairo, when it could be done so quickly, and there are parties who will guarantee to fish it out for about $2,000. Pilots have more to fear from the wreck of the Glendale than from any other obstruction in the channel between St. Louis and Cairo. It lies directly in the path of steamers, which are compelled to go close to it to find the best water in the crossing. A valuable steamer and cargo may be sunk and destroyed any day by running on the old Glendale.

—January 15th is the day that bids will be opened at Chicago for the transportation of Government troops and supplies on the Missouri River, between Sioux City, Iowa, or Yankton, D. T., as principal starting point, and Fort Benton, M. T.—and separate proposals will also be received for transportation between Bismarck, at the N. P. R. R. crossing of Missouri River, or Fort Abraham Lincoln, D. T., as principal starting point, and Fort Benton from March 20 to October 31, 1874. There will be present several boat owners, in person or by agent, prepared to show that they are fully able to carry out the contract in all respects.

—The Vicksburg Herald of the 4th says: Capt. Williams says the Exporter will continue in the Memphis and New Orleans trade, leaving the Crescent City on Tuesday next. He says business is overdone in the Arkansas; he is afraid of being caught if he goes to St. Louis. There is certainly not much money in taking cotton from here to New Orleans at 75c ₩ bale, as Capt Williams did yesterday.

—The new Liverpool steamship Texas, now at New Orleans on her first voyage, is 360 feet long, which is the same as the great steamer Eclipse, so well remembered on the Western river 20 years ago, and which ended its days as a wharfboat at this port. The elongated wreck of the latter now lies hidden beneath the turbid river near the foot of Monroe street, where it burned and sunk a few years back.

—The United States Marshal at New Orleans has seized upon the steamboat Royal George, which was wrecked some time ago up Red River. The seizure is the result of a warrant granted at the instance of one Samuel Stewart and others, employes of the boat, who have sued for wages.

—The Memphis Avalanche of Wednesday says: It now seems that the steamer Nashville was damaged on her way here from Arkansas river, by colliding with a towboat near Scrubgrass Bend, and that is why she could not come above Helena. It is the first time anyone down this way knew about it.

—The steamer Edith, a Dowler wheel boat, towed fifty thousand tons of coal down Rock River to Rock Island during 1873. The Navigation Company designs putting in a dam and excavating the rock and sand next season, in order to improve navigation.

—The Hornet No. 3, My Choice, Jos. Walton, N J. Bigley No. 2, Panther, and D. D. Wood arrived at Cincinnati from Pittsburgh on Friday with tows of coal.

—Williams Corns, son of pilot Wes. Corns, died of scarlet fever at New Richmond last Tuesday.

—The Joe Kinney, Captain Porter, Joe Dill, clerk, left St. Louis for Pittsburgh on Saturday evening.

—Parties are negotiating at St. Louis for the hull of the dismantled Dexter for a wharfboat on the Lower Mississippi.

—The Bellaire Commercial says the Benwood Rolling Mill and the Iron works at Moundsville will both start up next week.

—Captain U. B. Piersel, a well known and experienced steamboatman, is now soliciting agent of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad.

—The James Howard, with three thousand tons, was aground sixty hours at Osceola, and the Sam J. Hale got $1,500 for pulling her off.

—Gallipolis collected $72 75 wharfage last week.

Affairs at Cartagena.

LONDON, January 12—6 A. M.—A special from Madrid to the Times says Gen. Dominquez, commanding the forces desieging Cartagena, telegraphed that he has compelled Atlay Castle to surrender, and that he has summoned the other forts of that city to do likewise.

A telegram to the Standard, from the vicinity of Cartagena, gives a rumor that another magazine exploded under the walls on Saturday, and that two hundred persons were killed. It is expected that the capture of Atlay Castle will lead to the speedy capture of the city.

WEST INDIES.

The Revolution in Cuba.

HAVANA, January 10.—The Voz de Cuba says: "The Lobarents are circulating news of a grave character from Puerto Principe. The fact is, a few soldiers, foraging, were surprised by a large force of the enemy. We shall not have to wait long for revenge. General Porticello will take it."

Another Spanish Outrage.

HAVANA, January 10.—The brig Margaret, Captain Blakeney, from New Orleans, arrived here this morning. The Captain reports that the brig was boarded last night by a Spanish gunboat ten miles off Morro, and he was required to show the vessel's papers. The commander of the gunboat also wanted the brig's hatches raised, but Captain Blakeney refused, and the gunboat left.

Personal.

Senor Soler, late Colonial Minister, left for New York to day. He was accompanied to the wharf by Captain General Jovellar, Senor Zulnetta, and other prominent Spaniards.

MEXICO.

The Revolution in Coahuila.

MATAMORAS, January 11.—The forces of Gen. Cespeda, the deposed Governor of Coahuila, has again been defeated by the troops supporting the Legislature, and elected Dr. Zelhas Governor. The action took place near Moncloog, the capital of the State, and although a severe engagement, it was not decisive. Both parties are still in the field, and the general Government having appointed a provisional Governor for the State until a new election can be held. General Escobedo, Governor of San Luis Potosi, has retired, and Manuel Maro has taken charge as provisional Governor. It is said that General Escobedo leaves the office to attend to private business. A want of accord between him and the general Government is perhaps the real reason.

GERMANY.

The Elections for the Reichstag.

BERLIN, January 11.—In the election for members of the Reichstag yesterday, the Danish party carried all the districts in North Schleswig, in which they were successful at the last and previous election.

Partial returns of the elections show that the number of National Liberals and Progressionists returned is about even, the other parties falling far behind. Dantzic, Leipsic, Bremen, Lubeck and Munich elect Liberal members, and Berlin, Koenigsberg and Bestan Progressionists. The candidates of the clerical party are chosen in Krefled, Cologne, Dusseldorf and Aachen.

GREAT BRITAIN.

Genet in Belfast.

LONDON, January 10.—Henry W. Genet, the fugitive from New York, was seen in Belfast, Ireland, yesterday. He was not arrested, as the offense for which he was convicted does not come under the extradition treaty.

FRANCE.

"Confidence" in the Government.

PARIS, January 10.—The members of the Cabinet have agreed to accept the passage of a resolution on Monday to immediately resume discussion of the bill for the appointment of Mayors as a vote of confidence in the Government.

INDIA.

Famine in Behar and Beranes.

CALCUTTA, January 11.—The famine is already causing great distress in Behar and Beranes.

BY MAIL.

Obituary.

NEW YORK, January 10.—London papers announce the death at Morlands, near Southampton, of Sir Pickard Glass, aged fifty-three, well known in connection with cable telegraphy.

Archbishop Ledochowiski.

A Berlin correspondent of the London Telegraph explains that Archbishop Ledochowiski's determination not to become a candidate for a seat in the Imperial German Parliament is ascribable to two motives—first, Ledochowiski being a Count as well as Archbishop, is said to have received from Rome a hint not to mix himself up with Parliamentary institutions; and, secondly, he feels that if elected he would be obliged to join the Central party in the House, and would thereby run great risks of offending the Polish national party, which has faithfully backed him in his acts of disobedience to the Government.

An Embezzler Executed.

Great excitment has been caused at Teflis by the capital punishment of Mirza Yussaf Khan, an able and popular statesman, who was educated in Paris at the expense of the Shah. Yussuf's offence was the appropriation of moneys entrusted to him for relieving a famine that had broken out in Astrakan.

WEATHER REPORT.

WAR DEPARTMENT,
OFFICE OF THE CHIEF SIGNAL OFFICER,
WASHINGTON, D. C., 8 P. M., Jan. 11, 1874.

Probabilities for To-Day.

For the Southern States east of the Mississippi river, colder and clearer weather, with light to fresh variable winds, and increasing pressure.

For the Middle and East Atlantic coast, increasing pressure, lower temperature, fresh and brisk southerly and northwesterly winds, with continued clear or partly cloudy weather, except possibly light in northern New England.

For Northern New York, and thence westward to Wisconsin, continued cold and cloudy weather will prevail, with northwesterly winds, backing to southerly, and with areas of snow.

For the Ohio valley, and thence westward to Kansas and Nebraska the barometer will continue high, with freezing weather and but slight cloudiness. The pressure will probably diminish in the Missouri valley during Monday, with winds backing to southerly, and with rising temperature.

HOME NEWS.

THE NEW CHARTER.

A Word of Caution to Councils To-day—A Question for the Courts.

To-day the first meeting of the Councils of 1874, for the transaction of business, will be held, and it is altogether probable that one of the matters earliest called up will be some measure looking toward the regulation of our municipal government in accordance with the City Charter that has been signed by the Governor. Now, it is not our intention in the least to throw any obstacles in the way of those who are anxious to have the city speedily brought under the new order of things, for we recognize many good features in the instrument—that is, so far as it has been possible to learn what the new charter really is. We would, however, offer a word of caution. It is an unquestionable fact that in the past, often, hasty legislation has been put upon the records of Councils that afterward had to be reconsidered and expunged. In view of this fact would it not be well, in such a very important matter as this charter business, to proceed with great care? Would it not be well as a preliminary to have an opinion from the Supreme Court relative to the constitutionality of the instrument—as a dispute has already arisen on that point. Some of our best lawyers insist that the new Constitution went into effect on the first of January, and if that be a right construction, then the new charter, not being signed until the seventh day of January, is not a law.

Further than this, it is contended by others that as the Charter was signed on the seventh, and the new Constitution was proclaimed the same day, that admitting the latter to only be in force from that date, the former—that is, the Charter—must come under its provisions, and hence being a special instead of a general bill, it is not constitutional. This point we heard argued on Saturday by a quartette of our leading lawyers, and the prevailing opinion was that the Charter, under such circumstances, was not a law.

Whether these doubts be valid or not, it might be well to have them authoritatively settled, so as to avoid future complications, and to that end we would advise Councils in the matter to make haste slowly.

The Manufacturers and Merchants Insurance Company.

It is noteworthy that this Company presents itself before the public after the storm, like Moses at Pisgah, with its natural force unabated, declaring a dividend of $3½ per share and with every sign and assurance of financial health and strength. Well done Mr. Secretary Kenney go on prospering and to prosper.

Pittsburgh as a Port of Entry.

According to the report of the local inspectors of the port of Pittsburgh made to the Supervising Inspector, Captain Devinney, this city is put the third port of entry in the country. During the year 146 boats were inspected, of which 17 were passenger steamers, 9 ferry boats, 117 tow boats and three freight boats, having a total tonnage of 32,962,061. 711 licenses were granted during the year as follows: Masters 198, mates, 114, pilots 138, first engineers, 179, and second engineers 82. 9 boats were out of service during the year and 22 new ones were constructed, and one life was lost by the Fred. Wilson, which is the first accident reported officially within the past four years.

The Run of Coal.

The following boats have departed for lower ports with tows in charge:

Towboats.	Coal Boats.	Barges.	Bushels.

Library Hall Company.

At the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Mercantile Library Hall Company the following officers and Board of Directors were elected:

President—Chas. J. Clarke.
Vice President—F. R. Brunot.
Treasurer—John G. Holmes.
Secretary—T. N. Miller.
Directors—Wm. Thaw, Jos. Dilworth, John W. Chalfant, Charles W. Batchelor, James Park, Jr.

During the year 1873 the revenues from the auditorium amounted to $9,900, being an increase over and above that received for 1872 of $5,600, caused by the action of the stockholders one year ago, authorizing the Board to rent the hall for minstrel and theatrical performances. The revenue from other sources having also increased, the Company is now being rapidly released from its financial embarrassment.

A Safe Institution.

Among the monied institutions of Pittsburgh, we know of none that is more entitled to the confidence of the public than is the Bank of Industry, No. 110 Fifth avenue. This bank went through the panic without even a suspicion cast on it, and stands to-day among those home institutions our citizens are proud of. Among the many good features of this bank is a provision in the charter that enables married women and minors to deposit and check on their deposits without the interference from husbands or guardians. The officers are safe men, and the Cashier, Mr. Hanrahan, is one of the best in the city, courteous and obliging. The most ignorant in the mode of depositing need have no hesitation in dropping in and starting an account, as they will find him ever ready to instruct them. We commend this bank to our citizens and all others who may wish to do business with one of our city banks.

Armenia Insurance Company.

The financial exhibit of this company published in our columns, shows judicious and successful management. Its receipts for the last year, notwithstanding financial adverse influence, reached one hundred and thirty thousand dollars, its assets are in excess of the capital stock by eighty thousand dollars, while its liabilities of every name and kind do not reach four thousand dollars. The business of the year is proof positive to the patrons of the institution assuring them of its entire reliable and substantial condition. The company exercises the utmost discretion and circumpection in the location of its risks, the subordinate agencies being distributed so as to guard against the possible sweeping loss. Its eminent success is owing in a great measure to the superior executive ability of Mr. S. S D. Thompson, the President, assisted by Mr. T. B. Swearingen, its experienced and indefatigable Secretary.

Y. M. M. Library Association.

On Saturday afternoon the annual meeting of the Young Mens' Mercantile Library Association was held at the building on Penn street. The annual report of the President and Treasurer, Messrs. Malcolm Hay and Wm. J. Radcliff, were read, and from the report of the Librarian, Mr. George E. Appleton, it appears that the present number of annual members is 1,056; life membership, 28, and honorary membership, 7, making a total of 1,088. Although the report shows an increase of sixteen members, it falls below the anticipations of the librarian, as the result of the year's work. According to the report there were in the library 12,764 volumes, of which number there were added during the year 285 volumes by donation, &c. The number of volumes bound was 476. Whole number of volumes drawn from the library during the year was 227,980. The total receipts from all sources were over $7,176 00, and expenditures aggregated $6,000, leaving a balance in the treasury of about $1,294.42. The following gentlemen were elected officers for the ensuing year: President, Gen J. B. Sweitzer; Treasurer, Mr. Riddle; Auditor, Wm. Thaw; Directors, Messrs. Chalfant, Evans and Clark.

OBITUARY.

Death of Mrs. Mary Pflaum.

On yesterday Mrs. Mary Pflaum died very suddenly while visiting her sister, Mrs. Stern on Congress street. The lady has been in delicate health for some time past, but has never shown any alarming symptoms. On yesterday afternoon, about four o'clock, she felt rather better than usual, and she thought she would visit her sister, who is just recovering from a severe injury, which at one time threatened her life. She had rang the door bell, and when the servant answered the call, she was horrified by seeing Mrs. Pflaum drop to the ground, a corpse. An alarm was quickly given and physicians summoned, but too late, life had departed. Mrs. P. was a wife Mr. B. Pflaum and mother of Doctor and Attorney Pflaum, fifty-two years of age, and resided at No. 96 Washington street. She was a most estimable lady, highly respected for her many sterling virtues. She stood high in the affection of her friends and was a woman of true christian character. Her family, who have been so suddenly bereaved, by the taking off of an affectionate wife and mother, have the sincere and heartfelt sympathy of many friends and acquaintances.

Mr. John Moore.

Yesterday morning, at eight o'clock, Mr. John Moore, after a brief illness from inflammation of the bowels, died at his residence in the Seventeenth ward. He was for a number of years an active and energetic member of Common Council from that ward, and only last Monday was present at the organization of Councils for this year, and took the oath of office for another term. His strict honesty and unimpeachable integrity, both in public and private life, combined with his easy, courteous and gentlemanly manners, won for him a great many friends, and this notice of his death will cause the most sincere sorrow among all who knew him. In his decease the community loses an estimable private citizen, and the city a valuable public officer.

....The interior of the Connellsville depot has been remodeled. A new ticket office has been put up, taking in the space formerly occupied by the news stand, and running back to the door opening into the ladies' waiting room. A news stand has been put up, more commodious than the former, beside the former ticket office. The ticket office that was will hereafter be used as a telegraph office.

....The McKeesport Paragon says the coal miners in some of the pits along the valley are out on a strike, but not as might be supposed for an advance in wages, or against a further reduction; but they have struck for their "back pay." Only from ten to twenty per cent. of the wages made at some pits in the months of November and December has been paid, which is the cause of the strike.

....The McKeesport Paragon has been enlarged to the extent of four columns, and otherwise much improved since the new year, and it now presents a very handsome appearance. It contains a large amount of interesting reading matter, is always up to the times in local news and altogether deserves the liberal patronage we are pleased to learn the citizens of McKeesport are bestowing upon it.

....A Mrs. Shaw, residing on Thirtieth street, near Mulberry alley, on Saturday evening was confined in the Twelfth ward lock-up for being drunk. During the evening she climbed up on the bars of her cell, and when she reached the top, she threw herself back, one of her legs being broken in two places, and she was also cut about the head and injured internally. She was sent to her home, and medical aid summoned.

....Mrs. Mary Welsh of Mt. Washington called at the Mayors office on Saturday night and stated that her husband, Michael Welsh, after beating her had thrown the scalding contents of a coffee pot upon her, inflicting serious injury. She was suffering such intense pain that she could not remain long enough to make an information and started out for medical relief saying she would return to-day and enter suit against her husband.

....On Saturday, Francis H Hoffman filed a petition of divorce from his wife Lena Hoffman, in the Common Pleas Court. The petition recites as the reason for the divorce, inattention, extravagance, adultery, and the petitioner says, that she has assaulted him with shoes and pokers and other like weapons and has blackened his eyes and indeed threatened to kill him or make him kill her and has thus for him made life miserable. A subpœna returnable the first Monday in March was awarded.

....At a special meeting of the Board of Health on Saturday afternoon Messrs. Arnholt, Arthurs, Edwards, Gilmore, Hays, Dr. Snively and Health officer Gray were appointed delegates to a National Convention of Health Boards, to be held in Washington City on the 21st inst. It is quite likely that Dr. Gross, who takes an active interest in sanitary affairs, will also attend. The object of the convention is to establish a National Sanitary Bureau, and afterwards similar state organizations with a view of organizing a national and international system of exchanging information on sanitary matters.

....Yesterday morning a little excitement was had in the Pan Handle yards at the Union Depot. Two locomotives were moving along the track following each other when a box car standing on the track ahead caused the first engine to halt. The second, which was close behind, tried to do the same thing, "but the old thing wouldn't work." The engineer tried to reverse her, but it was no use. She dashed onward into the water tank of the other engine, sending things helter skelter, and creating a small pond. The locomotive was badly damaged, as was the tender of the other engine. Nobody hurt.

....Major Hartzell, clerk to the Mayor, made complaint on Saturday evening against an officer of the city force for retaining $225 collected by him on behalf the city on switch licenses. The officer claimed that a sum was due him from the late City Controller for services rendered, and that it was by a misunderstanding this money was not turned over to the Mayor's clerk, on account of the money collected for switch licenses. The officer gave collateral security for the payment of the sum due for the licenses collected—thus enabling the Mayor's clerk to keep "square" with the city, and the information was withdrawn.

....On Saturday morning Thomas Mann entered suit before Deputy Mayor Butler, charging John and Ella Donley with surety of the peace and felonious assault and battery. They were arrested between 12 and 1 o'clock on Saturday morning, previous to the making of the information, by Officer McGinty, while waiting on Fifth avenue to shoot Mann as he came out of the Fifth Avenue House, where he is employed as barkeeper. They were taken to the Central Station House and a loaded and cocked revolver found in the woman's possession. Mrs. Donley, it is said, some two months ago shot Mann on Wood street, but it was not known then who committed the deed. In default of $1,000 bail in the case of the woman and $500 in that of the man, the accused were committed to jail for trial at court.

....The third volume of the regular series of the "Pittsburgh Leader Almanac," published by Pittock, Nevin & Co., has been placed on our table. It is interesting, as usual, containing the principal events which have occurred in Pittsburgh and vicinity from 1750 to 1874, the leading events of 1873, leading foreign and domestic events of the past year, statistics of Pittsburgh, Allegheny City, Allegheny county and Pennsylvania, besides much other useful information usually found in publications of this description. The facts set forth are such as will be of service to most people every day of the year. We observe that it makes one error in regard to the office of Chief Justice of the United States,—a pardonable mistake, however, under the circumstances. The price of the Almanac is fifteen cents a copy.

....Some three months since two well known Baptists ministers, Revs. Hills and Bryant, of Harrisburg, were swindled by a man who gave his name as Fullerton, and who professed to be canvassing for Smith's Bible Dictionary, and was a theological student at Lewiston, Maine. As he professed to have urgent business in Easton, he borrowed some money and left. Recently a letter was received from Elmira, N. Y., by Mr. Bryant from another minister there, stating he had been "done for," by the same "nice" young man. On Friday, Fullerton was captured in Harrisburg by Mr. Hills, who identified him and had him arrested. He was allowed to go, on promising to do better in the future. Before he left the Mayor's office, he tore up a letter, which, on being picked up and the pieces pasted together, was found to be a letter of introduction from Rev. Alex. Clark, of the Methodist Recorder, for James Schindler to Mr. Getty, of Harrisburg. The letter is supposed to have been a forgery.

....The Municipal Front-office Debating Society is an intellectual and intelligent gathering. It is composed principally of detectives, officers of the Fire Department, City Hall employes generally, and occasionally outsiders, such as members of Council, ushers, gentlemen of leisure, &c., drop in and take part in the discussion. Chief White opened the entertainment last night by calling for stories regarded the big trees of the Yosemite Valley. Not much was said on this subject, however, as Jerry carried off the rag at a previous meeting. A transition was then made from big trees to ice bergs, and in the general conversation that followed regarding this important matter one member related how when he was "crossing the raging main" the ship traveled for six hundred miles along the edge of one cake of ice. The only one present who felt in the least inclined to dispute the story was "Dummy," and it is quite evident that he didn't believe a word of it. Lumber rafts a mile long were touched upon, but this subject was not dilated on to any extent, owing, no doubt, to the fear of getting into water too deep for comfort. The power of accurately calculating distances with the naked eye was warmly discussed, and some eloquent speeches were made. Cupples introduced a mathematical proposition that only created a moderate degree of interest, and was abandoned without a solution having been arrived at. The discussion finally degenerated into a description of how steals used to be engineered at Harrisburg. The loud laughs attested the fierce delight taken in the narrative, and "Dummy" and the reporter sadly and sorrowfully withdrew.

THE COURTS.

SATURDAY'S PROCEEDINGS.

Criminal Court.

[Before Judge Sterrett.]

T. A. Fields, alias Henry M. Rushing, who plead guilty to misdemeanor in unlawfully selling a railroad pass, charged by H. M. Butler, was sentenced to pay a fine of one hundred dollars and costs. The same defendant plead guilty to a charge of obtaining a pass on the Connellsville road, under false pretences, and was sentenced to the Work House for one year, to take effect at the expiration of the first sentence.

On a third indictment for false pretences made at the instance of H. M. Butler, Fields plead guilty, and was sentenced to the Work House for one year.

Poney Wirtz plead guilty to a charge of larceny, and was ordered to the Work House for a term of nine months.

Isaac Jones, for larceny, was committed to the Work House for four months; for false pretenses, he was sentenced six months to the same institution, and for fraudulently making and uttering a written instrument, one year to the Work House.

John McBane, who entered a plea of nolo contendere to a charge of selling liquor to minors, was fined $200, and sentenced to pay the costs.

Martin Ludwig, having entered a plea of fornication and bastardy, was sentenced to pay $20 to the Guardians of the Poor, $25 to the prosecutrix, $15 for support of the child, and $5 per month for five years to the prosecutrix.

Conrad Rosenburgh was fined $5 and costs for committing a simple assult on Mary T. Stewart.

Court of Common Pleas.

(Before Judges Stowe and Collier.)

J. B. Kistler filed a petition for a writ of de lunatic inquirendo, to inquire into the mental condition of Eliza Elliot, a sister-in-law of the petitioner, who is alleged to have been so deprived of her reason and understanding as to be unable to governor herself and to manage her affairs. Petition granted, and a writ issued to Louis A. Heidelburg, Esq., returnable on the first Monday of March.

In the case of Barton & Keeney vs. Robert Young, a motion was made by plaintiff's counsel for a new trial and allowed by the Court.

U. S. District Court.

[Before Judge McCandless.]

In the bankruptcy branch of this court the following business was disposed of:

D. L. Patterson & Co., of Allegheny filed a petition asking that Joseph Williamson, of Allegheny, be adjudged a bankrupt.

J. S. Bayard of Greene county, was adjudged bankrupt, upon the petition of the First National Bank of Waynesburg. The case was referred to Register Knox.

The Mechanic's Savings Bank, of this city, filed a denial of the allegations contained in the petition in bankruptcy of James Scheidle, and demanded a jury trial, which was granted, and trial takes place at the next term.

United States Circuit Court.

In the case of Hood, Bonbright & Co. vs. P. A. Hodge, a preliminary injunction was granted to enjoin the defendant from selling certain property belonging to D. B. Coleman.

In the case of Henry Frank vs. Samuel Reynolds, a preliminary injunction was granted to restrain S. Reynolds from proceeding to sell certain property on an execution of H. Frank.

Preliminary injunctions were granted in the following cases: J. W. McMillen vs. Wm. Neil et al. Same vs. E. R. Ellison et. al. Same vs. Darley et. al. Same vs. S Roberts et. al.

In the case of G. W. DeCamp, assignee of G. W. Thompson, vs. S. W. McMeek, a motion for a new trial was denied, and judgment directed to be entered in the verdict.

Supreme Court Decisions.

General J. B. Sweitzer, Prothonotary of the Supreme Court for the Western District, has received by mail the opinions in the cases recently decided upon at Philadelphia. The Court has also decided the following Western cases, not included in the list given a few days ago:

Purman et al. vs. Porter et ux. Error to the Common Pleas Court of Greene county. Judgment reversed. Opinion by Mercur, J.

Torrens et al. vs. Campbell. Error to the Common Pleas Court of Fayette county. Judgment reversed. Opinion of Mercer, J.

Karns et al. vs. McKinney. Error to the District Court of Allegheny county. Judgment reversed. Opinion by Mercur, J.

The Oil Creek and Allegheny River Railroad Company. Judgment affirmed. Opinion by Mercur, J.

Real Estate Savings Bank vs. Linder and wife. Judgment reversed. Opinion by Mercur, J.

Duff vs. Wyncoop. Error to the Common Pleas of Forest county. Judgment reversed. Opinion by Mercur, J.

BURNELL, THE EVANGELIST.

His Visit Among the Churches in this Vicinity.

Mr. K. A. Burnell, the Evangelist, was the attraction at many church services yesterday. Mr. Burnell, as we have heretofore stated, is winding up a tour through the State. He commenced in this vicinity at the Shadyside Presbyterian church, and on yesterday morning conducted a service at the same place. Yesterday afternoon he was at an union meeting at Christ M. E church. In the evening at half past six o'clock he addressed an audience at the Young Men's Home. His day's labors were wound up at the Third Presbyterian church, where a large audience had gathered.

In conducting the meetings, Mr. Burnell talks himself the greater part of the time, but has the service interspersed with singing and prayer. He is a plain, practical, earnest speaker, without any particular oratorical graces or power, but one who makes an impression, and is effective more through his evident devotion.

The meetings were largely attended, and general satisfaction was expressed.

This morning he visits the Temporary Home for Destitute Women, is to be present at the Noon Prayer Meeting in Y. M. C. A. rooms (from 12 to 1:30), and addresses the workmen at some of our manufactories; meets with the members of the Executivee Committe of the Allegheny County and Pennsylvania State Sabbath School Association at the rooms of the Young Mens' Christian Association at 4:30 P. M., and in the evening at 7:30 will address the Union Sabbath School meeting at the Third United Presbyterian church, Diamond street near Grant. The union services so far held have been crowded, and we bespeak a crowded house this evening. In addition to Mr. Burnell, addresses will be delivered by Rev. W. J. Reid, on "the International Lessons for the first quarter of 1874," and by Maj. E. W. Matthews, on How to Prepare a Sabbath School Lesson," and by others. To morrow and Wednesday Mr. Burnell will conduct similar meetings in Washington, Pa., and on Thursday will again be in our city, and on that evening will conduct a union service in some of our churches, to be announced hereafter.

DEATH FROM HEART DISEASE.

Coroner's Inquest.

On yesterday afternoon Coroner William McCallin held an inquest on the body of Mrs. Margaret Sunderland, who died suddenly at the residence of Thomas Ross, on Brady street, Fourteenth ward. The deceased, who had been suffering from consumption for some time past, has been in very poor circumstances. Only a few days ago her last bit of household furniture was levied upon in distress for rent, which seemed to have grieved her very much, and is supposed to have produced heart disease, from which she died. The jury rendered a verdict in accordance. The deceased was born in Philadelphia, was sixty-five years of age, a widow, and leaves two married daughters.

A Chance for Everybody.

The wisdom of the postponement of the Kentucky Library Grand Gift Concert, to the 31st of March next, is beyond dispute. With over $1,000,000 on deposit in bank to pay gifts, and that under the most adverse circumstances, there can be no doubt now of a full drawing, when the holders of the lucky tickets, will receive such splendid cash prices as $250,000, $100,000, $50,000, $25,000 &c.

It is now positively announced, that there will be no further postponement, therefore, every one, will supply themselves with tickets, and every ticket will be sold before the day of the concert.

A STUDY OF THE SUN.

Lecture by R. A. Proctor—Recognition of Pittsburgh's Contributions to Solar Science.

We do not always appreciate, at its full value, the work that is being done by scientists in our own midst. The old adage, that a prophet is not without honor save in his own country, finds occasional illustration, even in these days. Prof. S. P. Langley, of the Allegheny Observatory, recently made a series of discoveries which, had they been made by an European astronomer, would have commanded favors and honors from crowned heads. The results were given to the world through the columns of the GAZETTE, and have been widely copied since, and have attracted attention in Europe as well as in America. We allude to his discoveries on the sun. These discoveries have received fresh prominence, by a lecture delivered in New York, a few days since, by Richard A. Proctor, Secretary of the Royal Astronomical Society of London, and author of several noted works on astronomical subjects. The lecturer, after mentioning the various discoveries of others, refers to those of Professor Langley, of the Allegheny Observatory, as follows:

PICTURES OF SUN-SPOTS.

Now you have another picture showing the same corrugations, the whole picture being devoted to that one feature. There are corrugations, and you see them surrounding a small spot which we know as penumbra. Now you can recognize the justice of Herschel's description. These corrugations have given rise to a great deal of study in late times. You can recognize the central part of these corrugations as bright granules, but in preference I will use the term "rice-grains," because Prof. Langley of Pittsburgh has found it convenient to distinguish the rice-grains from still smaller spots to which the name of "granules" have been given by him.

The picture next to be shown will indicate the rice grains, which are not so delicate as that Prof. Langley has discovered. Dr Huggins in England has taken the picture, and from its irregular aspect it has been called Dr. Huggin's floor cloth. Still I have very little doubt that he recognizes these features. You can see the general darkness of that picture where granules are few. These dark regions are the dark parts of that mottling which is seen in smaller telescope. These rice grains are not in reality small, although they look small in the telescope. The length is about 600 or 700 hundred miles, and the breadth about 300 miles; in other words, they are about as large as England. [Laughter.] The study of these objects led to a very singular theory. It was thought by one gentleman from the aspect of the spots that the sun is surrounded by double coating, the outer giving light, the inner coating only able to reflect the light, but with no power of its own to give light, and that when the inner coating is broken you see through the dark surface of the sun, and that surface may be so slightly illuminated and heated by surrounding cloud layers, that life may be possible there. Sir John Herschel said that whatever view we might form about these rice grains, it was certain the greater part of the light and heat of the sun comes from them, and he thought that vital energy in living organism was the secret of that light; that, because vitality is connected with electricity, and electricity with light, there might, in some of these spots of 600 miles long by 300 miles wide, be living creatures.

OBSERVATIONS OF ASTRONOMERS.

I now pass to the particular observations which suggested these thoughts. On the sun's surface there were observed willow leaves, which gave rise to a great deal of controversy as to their existence. You all see those willow leaves of Nasmyth. You will notice that the whole of the broad surface of the sun appears to be made up by the crossing of a multitude of willow leaves. They appear more distinctly in the center part, and are very well recognized on the outlying border of the spot. But when that matter was submitted to careful study it was found that there was great occasion to doubt whether the long willow leaved streaks existed all over the surface of the sun, and an astronomer of your own has given a good account of them.

But before I come to Langley's work I must give a picture by Father Secki. It would appear that he, observing the solar spots in the clear atmosphere of Rome, was able to recognize the true nature of these streaks. The general surface of the sun is made up of that peculiar rough dotted appearance already described. It would seem as though from this general surface there was a gradual streak out in the neighborhood of the spots. You will see that they spread around and across these spots, and how they are quite distinct in character from the character they have in the general surface of the sun.

We will now take a picture from Prof. Langley, who worked in the neighborhood of Pittsburgh, at a height of about 1,100 feet. He would seem to have been able to recognize the fact that the rice grains may be divided into smaller particles. He has found that the greater part of the sunlight undoubtedly comes from these little specks of brightness on the surface of the sun, while the general level of the sun, the background on which these bright specks are projected, is very much darker. And the picture I now wish to be presented is the picture of Prof. Langley. It would appear to be the case that about one-hundreth part of the sun's light is given by the dark background on which these bright specks of light may be seen.

I have to pass on to the spectroscope discoveries by which the real nature of this wonderful orb, whose appearance we have been considering has been determined—I mean spectroscopal analysis. We have to consider what are the real substances in the sun, and what are the processes taking place on that solar surface. In Langley's picture you will notice the details are in a minuter scale than in Fr. Secki's picture, Langley has been able to recognize in these grains multitudes of granules, and in the neighborhood of the spots you will see how they lengthen out, how they seem carried across this dark region in the spot. In some places Langley has been able to recognize on the dark background of the spot, what seems to be long filaments, the breadth of which cannot be less than 50 miles. They seem to be suspended vertically with respect to the sun, and in the neighborhood of the spot some wonderful force seems to sway them toward the centre of the spot. These wonderful filaments are thousands of miles in lengths and 40 or 50 miles in width.

THE CHILDREN'S GATHERING.

Sunday School Re-union—The Anniversary Gathering of the U. P. Sunday Schools of Allegheny—Over One Thousand Children Assembled.

It is customary among the United Presbyterian Sabbath Schools in Allegheny to hold an annual re-union service, on some Sabbath in January, and yesterday was the time selected for the demonstration of '74. The schools had agreed upon the time, speakers engaged, and the Fourth church, corner of Arch street and Montgomery avenue, selected as the place. The scholars first assembled at the irrespective headquarters and then marched to the general rendezvous. When all had arrived there it was found that the main auditorium would not contain the crowd, and so it was found necessary to hold one meeting up stairs and the other in the lecture room. It was estimated that there were from one thousand to twelve hundred children present, while the audiences were further enlarged by their parents, and friends of the schools. The schools represented were the First, Second, Third, Fourth, Fifth and Central.

The exercises up stairs were presided over by Rev. J. W. Witherspoon of the Fifth church and the down stairs meeting by Mr. John Hopkins, superintendent of the Fourth school. The exercises consisted of addresses by Rev. J. W. Bain, of the Third church, J. M. Johnston, of the Central and W. H. Millen, of the Second, the intervals being filled up with music. Each speaker addressed both meetings. The reunion was a great success and was highly enjoyed by all.

European Steamship Arrivals Saturday.

MARRIED.

GERWIG—BECKERT—On Thursday, January 8, 1874, at the residence of the bride's parents, Mount Troy, Reserve township, by Rev. Wm. Carl Schilling, Mr. NICHOLAS J. H. GERWIG, of Allegheny City, to ANNA M., youngest daughter of Mr. Frederic Beckert.

DIED:

ALLEN—On Sunday morning, January 11, at 2 o'clock, GEORGE ALLEN, in the 70th year of his age.

The friends of the family are respectfully invited to attend the funeral from his late residence, No. 177 Pennsylvania avenue, Allegheny City, on TUESDAY next at 10 o'clock.

CRAWFORD—On Sunday morning, Mr. JOHN B. CRAWFORD, in the 55 h year of his age.

Funeral from his late residence, No. 232 Bedford avenue, on TUESDAY MORNING, the 13th inst., at 10 o'clock. The friends of the family are respectfully invited to attend.

THE LIVING TELEGRAPHER.

Symptoms are the silent characters through which the diseased body telegraphs its condition. But they are not always read aright, and the medicines administered sometimes aggravate instead of relieving the complaint. Conspicuous among the instances of malpractice which are of daily occurrence, is the habit of dosing dyspeptic and constipated invalids with powerful cathartics. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, in which are skilfully blended the vegetable elements best adapted to the invigoration of the stomach and removal without violence, of regular discharges from the bowels, should be taken twice or thrice a day as a remedy for indigestion of every type, and for costiveness, whether chronic or casual. No other medicine will be required and the cure will be rapid and painless. No medicine, as yet discovered or compounded, equals Hostetter's Bitters as a specific for all affections of the liver, as well as for diseases of the stomach, the bowels and the nerves.

SENATOR GRAHAM'S VIEW.

The McClure Election Law—The Probabilities of Its Passage—The Business to be Disposed of at Once.

The bill offered by Mr. McClure in the State Senate, and known as the McClure election law, has attracted considerable attention in this as well as other large cities, and especially is it the topic of discussion among the fortunate "ins" and the less fortunate but aspiring and hopeful "outs"—both sides being equally interested in its fate. The dispatches from the State Capital in reference to the matter, thus far have been chiefly characteristic for a conflict of opinion as to the ultimate fate of the measure, and from them it has been rather difficult to gather any definite knowledge of the prevailing sentiment among our law makers concerning the business. From a desire to gain some lucid information as to the Legislative pulse upon the subject, a representative of the GAZETTE changed the current of Senator Graham's Saturday evening reverie by a short interview, in which the conversation chiefly turned on McClure's bill. The matter being introduced and the inquiry made as to "the feeling in the Senate" elicited the reply: "Oh, it will go through. That is, something of the kind will be adopted, but I can't just say exactly what it will be."

"You see," continued the courteous law-maker, "we have hardly had the measure brought before us yet. The business is in this shape. Senator McClure first offered the bill and it was referred to a special committee—I happened to be named on that committee, and when we came to consider the bill, we concluded not to waste time, but to report it at once to the Senate."

"Without any recommendation?"

"Yes; oh, yes. Without any recommendation. We merely wanted to get it before Senate in a shape for discussion. Well, when it was reported, the Senate resolved itself into Committee of the Whole, and discussed the measure for twenty minutes, perhaps, or half an hour, and it was then laid over until next Tuesday."

"Well, how about the amendments; were any of them adopted?"

"Oh, no. There were plenty of them offered, but none adopted; and they will be discussed when the bill is considered."

"I understand, Senator, that the bill was so loaded down with amendments that it was likely to be defeated altogether."

"Well, it's true there are a number of amendments, but some of them will be quickly disposed of, and there is no fear that they will kill the bill. They are offered to cure defects."

"What is the general sentiment among the Senators? I understand the rural members are opposed to it."

"All in its favor. That is the Senators all think a bill embodying the principle is necessary. There are of course some differences regarding details but these can all be arranged. I have no doubt some of the details will be considerably changed, as they are too cumbersome. That is one of the great objections made to it by the county members. They are not opposed to the principle of the bill at all, but many oppose certain features—such for instance as the matter of challenges. The bill as it stands requires a man challenged to first swear as to his right to vote, produce his tax receipt, and then furnish proof of his residence. This is manifestly so unfair that it at once encountered opposition. Why a man might have come several miles to vote, and then be challenged and if he had to go and hunt up proof of his residence, in all probability he would lose his vote because he wouldn't have time. Now the members generally think a man's oath and his tax receipt are enough evidence of his right of suffrage and the challenging party should rebut these before his ballot should be thrown out or the voter put to any more trouble."

"Well, how about the elections in February? Is that generally endorsed?"

"As I said, the matter is not yet in such shape that we can predicate a result. We will likely dispose of it next week, and it may be considerably changed. Its main features, however, in regard to time of election and against fraud will be, in all probability, retained. But I am only now giving you my general opinion. I am positive some bill of the kind—essentially the same in principal as Mr. McClure's, will pass the Senate."

"And the House?"

"I was just about to say, and the House also. So far as I can learn both Senators and Representatives are anxious to have a fair bill passed at the earliest possible day."

The inquirer having thus gained the Senator's views, closed the interview with thanks for the courtesy accorded.

AMUSEMENTS.

PITTSBURGH OPERA HOUSE.—Saturday night witnessed a barely perceptible diminution in the immense crowds that every evening last week filled the seats and thronged the aisles, to hear Clara Morris. This actress, whose name is on the tongue of every lover of the drama, fully and fairly deserves the success she has achieved in this city. It is not a success manufactured by ingenious advertising or created by newspaper puffs, but a victory won by genuine merit and unmistakable dramatic ability of the very highest order; and of the thousands who have seen and heard her here it would be safe to guarantee that not one regrets their expenditure of time and money. In Miss Morris' personation of Cora in "Article 47" is displayed almost every passion that fills the breast of woman kind; for the character is one that affords wide scope for an exhibition of every variety of feeling, and more particularly those of the most intense love, and the deepest, deadliest hate. A hate so terrible that it unseats reason and results in madness. The character of Cora is at no time throughout the play particularly lovable or charming, but in the hands of Miss Morris it is irresistibly fascinating, and leads the listener to unconsciously wonder from whence comes the matchless power of the actress. It is only agreeing with the many, and differing with the few, in saying that she has never been excelled in Pittsburgh. As a literary production "Article 47" is only, so to speak, high middling, and probably hardly that, but it is the peerless acting, and not the author's ideas that constitutes the attraction. As regards moral sentiment, it is possessed of as creditable a share as the average old English drama.

This evening Miss Morris appears as Gabrielle in the "Geneva Cross," a play requiring, to a certain extent, acting of a different kind from that of last week. The author of the drama is George Fawcett Rowe, and it was suggested by incidents of the late Franco-German war, the action of the play passing at Auxerre, near Paris and in Paris, during the years of 1870-71. This being the concluding week of Miss Morris' engagement, all who can should see and hear her.

LECTURE.—Rev. James Young, of Londonderry, Ireland, will deliver a lecture on Tuesday evening, 13th inst., at 7 o'clock, in the Fourth U. P. church, Seventeenth and Penn streets, Pittsburgh. Subject: "Protestantism—Its Struggles with Jesuitism." Defending the use of the Bible in the public school. Admission, 50 cents

CATHEDRAL FAIR.—The Fair in the basement of the Cathedral has proved a great success, upward of six thousand persons have visited it during the past four weeks. The watch contest continues exciting, more than eight thousand votes have been polled, and at the last count J. C. Conroy, the temperance candidate, was hundred votes ahead, and his friends say they mean to keep him ahead. The fair is open every evening, and is in charge of agreeable young ladies and gentlemen who "study to please" all.

SATURDAY CONCERT.—The inauguration of popular concert Saturday matinees, was not as successful as we should like to have seen it. Library Hall was only fairly filled, it should have been crowded. The home talent that was present did their best, and Prof. Guentheir's flute solo and Mr. Etterbardt's violin playing, being especially noticeable. But the great feature of the concert, was, the debut of Miss Lina Luckhardt, the pianist, in Pittsburgh. She is undoubtedly a great artiste, who eminently understands the instrument. Her rendition of the Litz's "Faust" waltz was a marvelous piece of execution, and received a decided encore. She possesses a peculiar delicacy of touch, which is not excelled by any artist we have ever heard; but she is not the equal in power of elocution to Miss Mehlig. Miss Luckhardt's rendering of the other pieces also showed her great power. We believe that this lady is the coming pianiste, for undoubtedly, she meets the popular idea, and consequently its approbation.

SUPREME COURT OPINIONS.

Notes of Some of the Most Interesting Cases.

Prothonotary Sweitzer on Saturday received a batch of opinions delivered by the Supreme Court at Philadelphia, and found among the local list were a few of more than ordinary interest, the gist of which we give below:

BRIGGS VS. HAYS.

The opinion in this case is formidable in length—almost as much so as was the time which occupied three weeks in the Court of Common Pleas. The case was known at the time as the lateral railroad case, and it will be remembered that Briggs desired to build a lateral railroad from his coal land across the land of Hays to the Monongahela river, and then to take an extended river front from Hays as a landing. Hays presented numerous objections to the road, but was particularly averse to giving up so much of his river frontage. After the case had been tried, thirty or forty objections were made, and the matter taken to the Supreme Court, which approves twelve of the assignments of error, and thus refers the matter back to the lower Court. The chief point in the whole matter is the decision of the Supreme Court that in cases where a river frontage is condemned no more can be taken than is absolutely necessary for a landing for a regular boat used in the business, which, in effect, would reduce the length of the frontage taken to less than four hundred feet. In several instances already, where "landings" have been secured by condemnation, from 1,200 to 1,800 feet have been taken, and the importance of this decision can thus be inferred.

THE BLACKMORE ESTATE.

In the case of Hickman, administrator of Middlesworth vs. James Blackmore et al., the Supreme Court rendered an opinion by which the Mayor and a younger brother are dispossessed of property valued at a quarter of a million dollars; the court decided the estate in dispute to be a defeasible one, instead of an estate entail. In other words, the court decided that Jonathan Middlesworth was only the owner of the property while he lived, and that at his death it fell to the grand children of Jonathan's father, so that Mr. Thomas Blackmore, from whom the property reverted to the Mayor and his younger brother, had no clear title for permanent ownership when he purchased from Johnathan. The suit was one in ejectment, brought to recover from Blackmores possession of two hundred and forty acres of vauable land, underlaid with coal, on the Chartiers Valley Railroad, in Upper St. Clair township. It was tried in the Common Pleas, and the jury rendered a verdict for the plaintiff, Hickman, but subject to the opinion of the Court on questions of law reserved. On the reserved questions of law the Court set aside the verdict and decided the case in favor of the Blackmores. Hickman then appealed the case to the Supreme Court, and it was argued at the sitting of that branch here a couple of weeks ago, with the result as given above.

THAT "RIVER" LAND.

Another case was that of Levi Poor and John W. Dunn vs. W. G. McClure. This was a case arising out of the question as to whether land in the middle of a river is saleable or not. The land in dispute lies in the Allegheny river, between Wainright's island and the Pittsburgh shore. The court decided that parties holding grants for this bottom (of the river) land, could not dispose of them to others without first obtaining a special act of the legislature. The Supreme Court, therefore, affirmed the decision of the lower court in this case, holding that, although the defendant did hold a patent for the land from the Land office such patent was not sufficient without an act of the Legislature as no Land office patent could convey away land in the channel of a river—or what was once a channel.

THE MAGINNIS CASE.

The decision in the case of John Maginnis was affirmed. It will be remembered that Maginnis is the millionaire whose property was taken from under his control, on the ground of his habitual drunkenness. Maginnis' children first had a commissioner appointed to inquire into his lunacy. This commissioner reported him unable to properly attend to his business. Maginnis appealed to Court for a jury trial, which was granted. Upon the opening of the case the counsel for the children offered in evidence the testimony previously take by the commissioner, and there rested their case. The defense then brought a number of witnesses to prove that McGinness was no habitual drunkard and was competent of taking charge of his affairs. Then the plaintiffs offered additional evidence to back up the testimony taken before the commissioner. To this the defense objected, maintaining that it was evidence in chief, and not proper rebutting evidence, and should have been presented before the plaintiffs rested their case, and the defence took up its side. The Court overruled the objection, however, and the evidence went to the jury, who found McGinness to be an habitual drunkard, and in accordance with the verdict a commissioner was appointed to take charge of his estate. His counsel appealed on the ground that it was not proper to submit testimony after the report of the commission had been offered, but the Supreme Court decide the point not well taken, and the lower Court was sustained.

BRICELAND AND STAUP.

The Washington and Fayette County Murderers.

Chief Justice Agnew has delivered the opinions of the Supreme Court in the cases of Henry Briceland, of Washington county, and Jacob Staup, of Fayette county, both of whom were convicted of murder in the first degree, and their cases carried to a higher tribunal.

In the case of Briceland the errors alleged in the appeal are that the trial was continued after the expiration of the regular term of the Court of Oyer and Terminer, because the term closed on Saturday and the jury did not deliver a verdict until Tuesday, and also of that portion of the charge of the judge relative to the defense of alibi. These are the only two points in the appeal to which the Chief Justice attached any weight. They were reviewed at length and the remaining arguments not possessing sufficient merit to reverse the judgment, the sentence of the Court of Oyer and Terminer was affirmed.

In the case of Staup it was alleged in the appeal that the Judge allowed a person to go on the jury who had formed and expressed an opinion on the prisoners' guilt or inncoence after the counsel for the defence had challenged him "for cause." A number of other points were submitted, but this was the main one. The opinion of the Supreme Court reversed the sentence of the lower court, and grants Staup a new trial—the third one.

Fourth Grand Gift Concert
FOR THE BENEFIT OF THE Public Library of Kentucky.
OVER A MILLION IN BANK.
Success Assured.
A FULL DRAWING CERTAIN ON Tuesday, 31st of March, Next.

In order to meet the general wish and expectation of the public and the ticket holders, for the full payment of the magnificent gifts announced for the Fourth Grand Gift Concert of the Public Library of Kentucky, the management have determined to postpone the Concert and Drawing until Tuesday, the 31st of March, '74.
They have already realized
OVER A MILLION DOLLARS
And have a great many agents yet to hear from.
No doubt is entertained of the sale of every ticket before the drawing, but whether all are sold or not the Concert and Drawing will positively and unequivocally take place on the day now fixed, and if any remain unsold they will be cancelled and the prizes will be reduced in proportion to the unsold tickets.
Only 60,000 tickets have been issued and 12,000 Cash Gifts,
$1,500,000
Will be distributed among the ticket holders.
The tickets are printed in coupons of tenths, and all fractional parts will be represented in the drawing just as whole tickets are.
